A Brief History of K. S. A. C.

ON February 9, 1858, the Kansas State Agricultural College had its inception when a charter was given to Bluemont Central College, a sectarian institution under the control of the Methoodist Episcopal Church of Kansas. Although this charter provided for the establishment of a classical college, it also contained the following interesting section:

"The said association shall have power and authority to establish, in addition to the literary departments of arts and sciences, an agricultural department, with separate professors, to test soils, experiment in the raising of crops, the cultivation of trees, etc., upon a farm set apart for the purpose, so as to bring out to the utmost practical results the agricultural advantages of Kansas, especially the capabilities of the high prairie lands."

The corner stone of the new college was laid on May 10, 1859, and instruction began about a year later. On March 1, 1871, a bill passed the legislature establishing a State university at Manhattan, the Bluemont Central College building to be donated for the purpose. The measure, however, was vetoed by Governor Robinson.

On July 2, 1862, President Lincoln signed the Morrill Act, "An act donating public lands to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts." This bill granted each state 30,000 acres of land for each senator and representative it had in congress and provided that the money derived from the sale of these lands constitute a perpetual fund for the operation of at least one college which would "promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life."

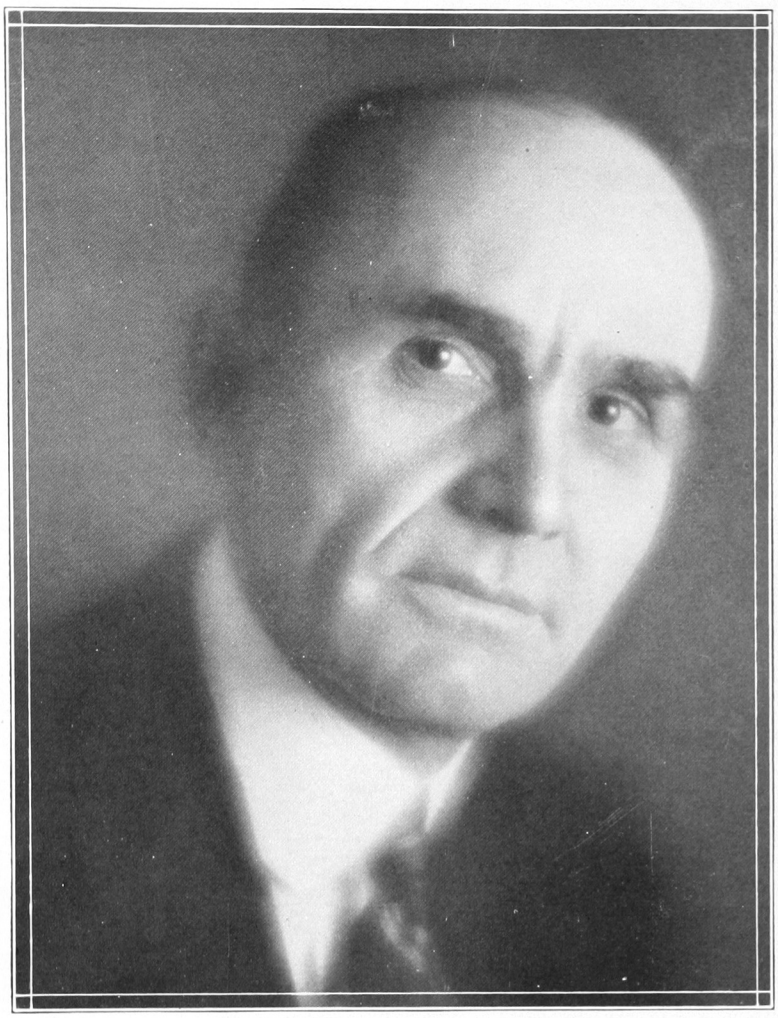

On February 3, 1873, Governor Carney signed a joint resolution passed by the Kansas legislature, in accordance with which the provisions of the Morrill Act "are hereby accepted by the State of Kansas; and State hereby agrees and obligates itself to comply with all the provisions of said act." On February 16 of the same year the governor signed an act which permanently located the college at Manhattan.

The three commissioners appointed by the governor selected 82,313.52 acres of the 90,000 granted by congress. The deficiency of 7,686.48 acres—an amount selected and found to lie within a railroad grant—was not made up by Congress until 1907.

After the passage of the creative act, no subsequent legislation was enacted until the second Morrill Act on August 30, 1890. This act "applied a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts established under the provisions of an act of Congress approved July 2, 1862."

The third and last act of Congress increasing the income of agricultural colleges is the Nelson amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill, which was approved March 5, 1907. In addition, however, to providing for an increase in the support of these institutions from federal funds, the law contains the very significant provision specially authorizing the agricultural colleges to use a portion of this federal appropriation for the special preparation of instructors for teaching agriculture and mechanic arts.

Continued growth has been evident through the entire life of the college with the exception of a period during the World War.

DR. W. M. JARDINE
Former President of K. S. A. C.

Dr. Jardine was granted a leave of absence March 1 to take a position in President Coolidge's Cabinet as Secretary of Agriculture.

The Ideals and Aims of K. S. A. C.

ONE important ideal of the Kansas State Agricultural College is that every person who comes under its influence shall thereby be helped to serve his country, his neighbors, and himself through well-informed action. The spirit which dominates the college is based upon a firm belief in the dignity of honest, intelligent work. This spirit emanates from the best elements of American citizenship and is in accord with the best American traditions.

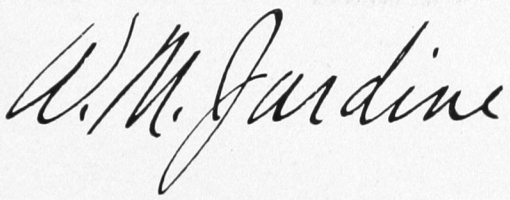

To help its students to become practical is one of the principal aims of the college. It is not worth while to be practical unless one has high ideals. But it is futile to have high ideals without some practicality through which to apply them. The college recognizes that we live in a work-a-day world, in which mere dreaming, unrelated to action, accomplishes little.

The student body at K. S. A. C. is justly famed for its democratic spirit. No person of high character, intelligence, and industrious habits needs to hestitate to join the student body because he lacks wealth or social position. A large proportion of the students pay their own college expenses. There are numerous high-class fraternities and sororities, but membership in them, however desirable, is neither a social nor an academic necessity. The Varsity football team has elected a non-fraternity man to the position of captain for the 1925 season. This action indicates something of the wholesome spirit prevailing among the students.

The student body respects industry, ability, and sincerity. These qualities are more highly esteemed by students and faculty than are such superficial things as wealth and cleverness.

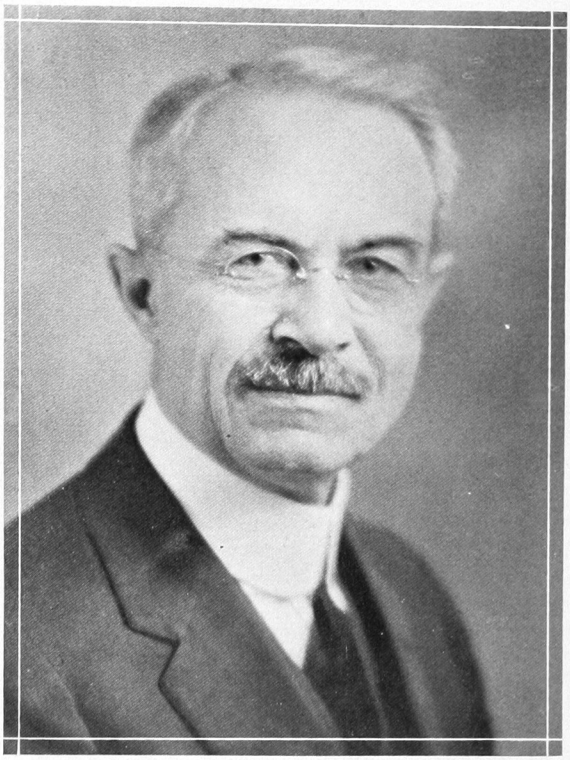

The college encourages many wholesome activities in addition to those provided in the curricula, because it believes in well-balanced development of young men and young women. It is proud of the records of its students in football and other athletic sports, in debating, dramatics, music, oratory, and other extra-curricular activities. It believes that a prospective engineer, farmer, or scientist can profit by a knowledge of these activities and by participation in them; and that a prospective home-maker may secure benefits by taking an active and intelligent interest in the arts. It emphasizes the importance of good living and of good citizenship as well as that of earning a livelihood.

A great majority of the thousands of men and women who have attended K. S. A. C. at some time during the past sixty years are honoring their Alma Mater by exemplifying these ideals and aims. These excellent men and women, living in widely distributed parts of the world, are leading prosperous and useful lives. They have fixed a high standard of good service and good citizenship toward which the younger generation of students may well strive. The college is proud of them.

President of K. S. A. C.

Division of General Science

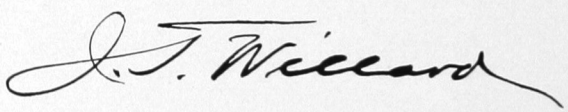

IN THE class of colleges to which this institution belongs the classical studies of the older type of college are replaced by work in the sciences and in vocational subjects. A sound basis for technical training includes thorough training in mathematics, physical science, and biological science. It is believed also that education should include some preparation for the discharge of one's duties to the state and to the community in which he lives. It should afford him that discipline and culture which alone can give him a grasp of the relations among persons and activities, peoples and events, with breadth of view and tolerance of attitude, and hence an influence over his associates and fellow-citizens of every station of life.

It is the province of the departments grouped in the division of General Science to give this basic, scientific, cultural and disciplinary training. Their work is not only foundational, but it penetrates through all of the characteristic vocational curricula of the institution, as the structural steel of the modern skyscraper penetrates the entire building and forms a secure framework and support for the more readily visible, and evidently important parts. These departments thus give unity to all of the four-year curricula.

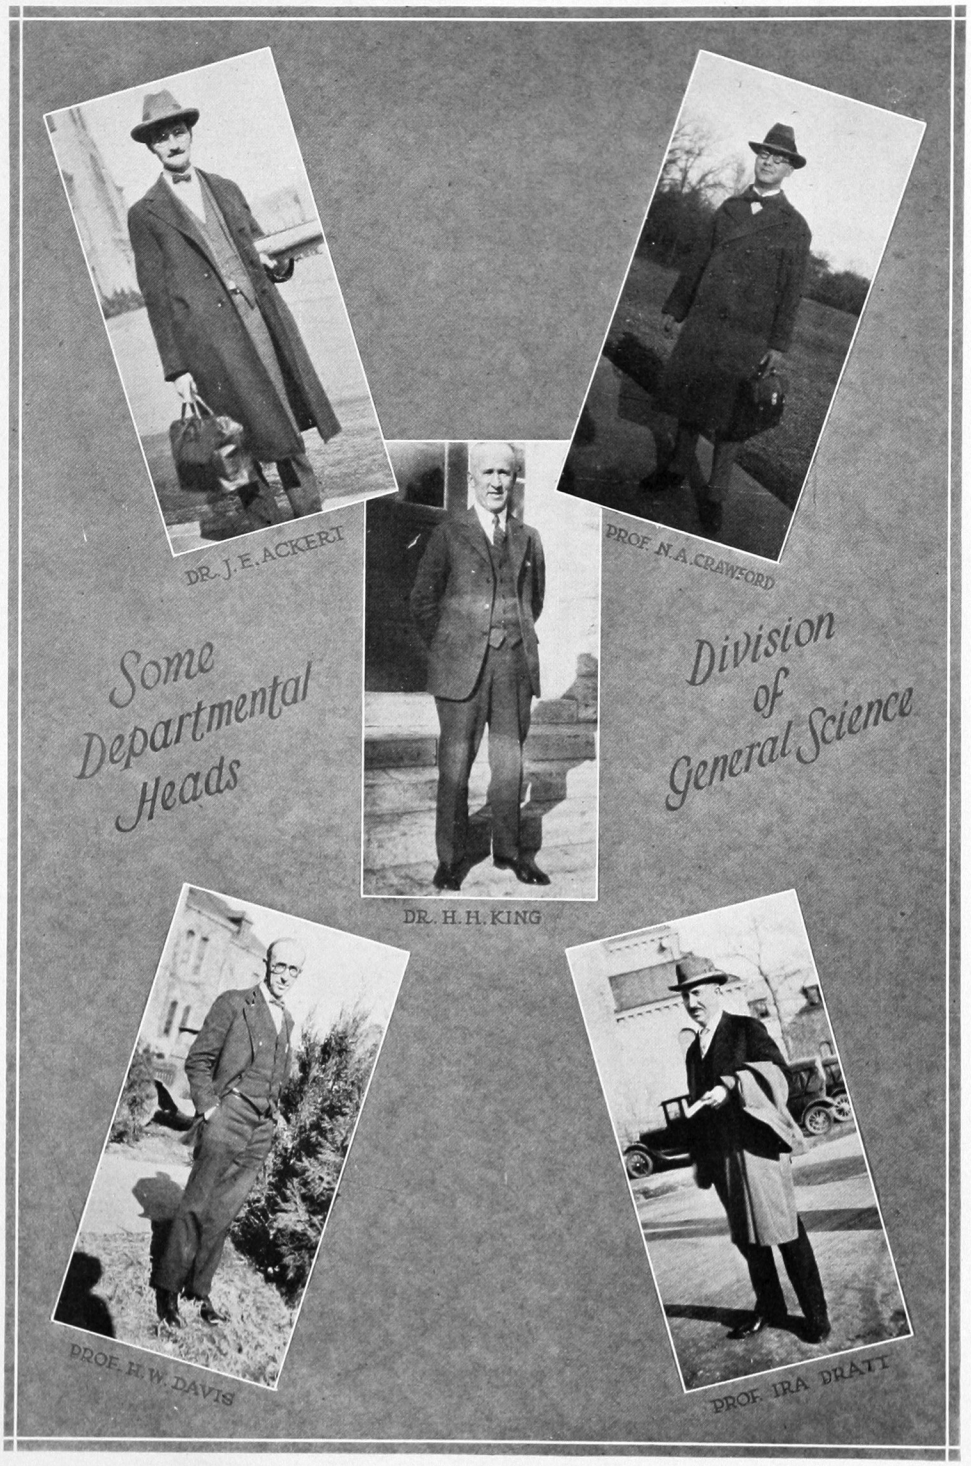

In addition they give most of the required subjects in the curricula in General Science, Industrial Journalism, Industrial Chemistry, Rural Commerce and Music. These curricula carry opportunities for election of many courses which give great flexibility to them, and make it possible for students to obtain many modifications that may meet individual needs.

The departments organized in this division are Bacteriology, Botany and Plant Pathology, Chemistry, Economics and Sociology, Education, English, Entomology, History and Civics, Library, Mathematics, Military Science, Modern Languages, Music, Physical Education, Physics, Public Speaking, and Zoology.

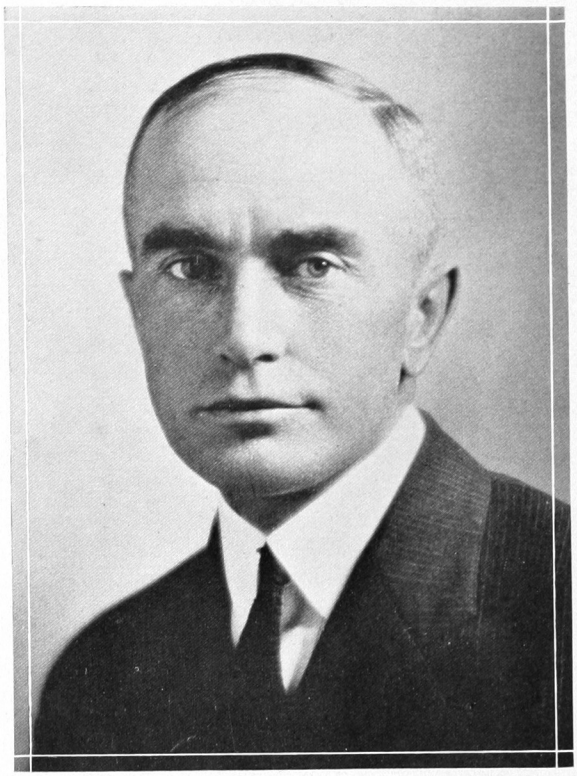

Two-thirds of the instructional work of the college is done by these departments, and a large fraction of the research.

Division of Agriculture

IN MODERN life, success usually comes to those who combine high personal qualities with adequate training in fundamental and technical subjects. High personal qualities are indispensable. Training is an exceeding valuable asset which gives to those who have it a distinct advantage over those who do not. College education enables the young man having the necessary personal qualities to take advantage of the fact that the well-trained man can do many things which are impossible to the untrained; to secure the rewards which go to him who is best fitted to earn them.

These simple facts apply in the great field of agriculture as they do in all other branches of human activity. Agriculture utilizes the services of thousands of technically-trained men in at least 150 interesting and profitable occupations, on the farm, in scientific laboratories, in class rooms, flour mills, creameries, grain elevators, packing plants, greenhouses, and many other places. No field offers a greater variety of interesting and dignified occupations.

The Division of Agriculture provides training for those who wish to devote their lives to agriculture, the largest industry in America. The Division is admirably prepared to do its work well. It has a large staff of high-class, well-trained teachers, and it is one of the best equipped agricultural teaching organizations in the world. The agricultural curriculum is well balanced. It enables the student to combine science and practice, the technical and the liberal, work and play. It helps the student to make of himself a good technical and business man, a good citizen and a good fellow, and to prepare himself for attractive opportunities which are more numerous than the men who are qualified to accept them.

Division of Agriculture

Division of Engineering

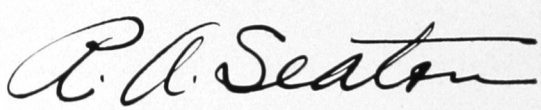

THE Engineering Division of K. S. A. C. is the largest Engineering school in Kansas, and one of the largest in the middle west. Its enrollment is exceeded by only two engineering schools between the Mississippi River and the Pacific Coast states. It is the second largest division of the college, being exceeded only by the General Science Division. It includes more than one-fourth of all the students in the college during the regular session and more than forty per cent of all the young men.

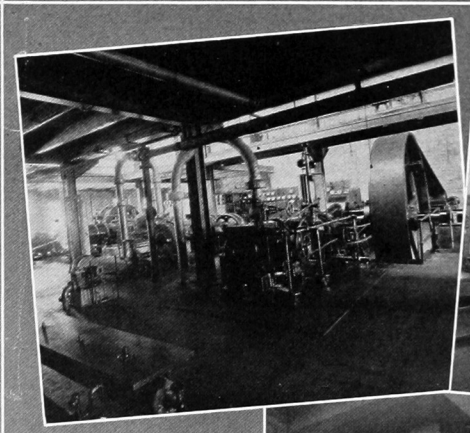

For a number of years before the war, the collegiate engineering enrollment at K. S. A. C. remained practically stationary at about 300 to 340 students. Following the war it rose rapidly and steadily, until this year it was more than 850, two and a half times as great as before the war.

With the large increase in the number of engineering students, there has been no difficulty in placing in attractive positions all of the graduates, and many more could easily have been placed. The fact that the graduates are making good is evidenced not only by the promotions and responsibilities given them, but also by the fact that the employers keep coming back for more of them.

The four-year curricula now offered in the Division of Engineering are: (1) Agricultural Engineering, (2) Architectural Engineering, (3) Architecture, (4) Chemical Engineering, (5) Civil Engineering, (6) Electrical Engineering, (7) Flour Mill Engineering, (8) Landscape Architecture, and (9) Mechanical Engineering.

Division of Home Economics

K. S. A. C. has the honor of being the first college in the United States to establish Home Economic courses. The first instruction in sewing was offered in 1873, classes being held in Bluemont Central College. Two years later household chemistry and household economy were added and the classes met in what is now called the Farm Machinery hall. The curriculum has been expanded until at present 52 technical courses are offered within the division.

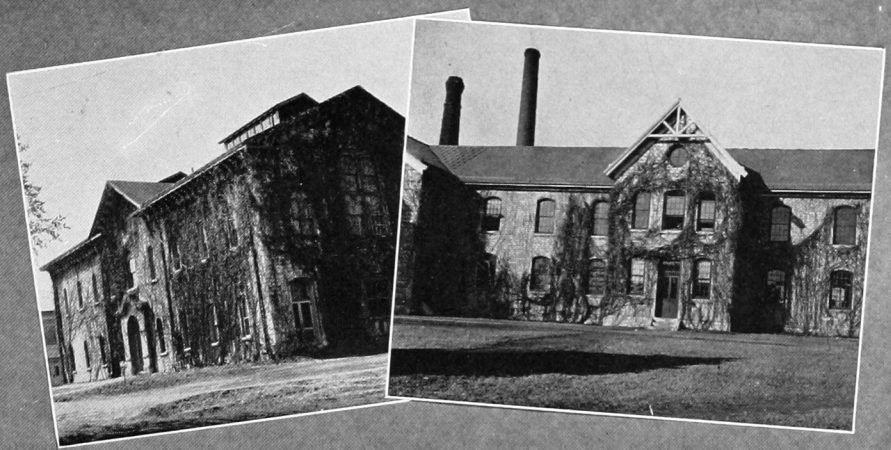

Five hundred girls are enrolled in the Home Economics division, and an additional hundred from other divisions are taking Home Economics subjects. The work is administered by a staff of 24 instructors and is organized under the departments of Applied Art, Clothing and Textiles, Food Economics and Nutrition, and Household Economics.

Kedzie hall, the first college building in the United States to be used exclusively for Home Economics instruction, was built in 1897. The present Home Economics building was erected in 1908 and the Cafeteria building in 1921. The Ellen Richards lodge, used as a practice house for the students in household management courses, is located off the campus.

A semi-centennial Jubilee, celebrating the completion of half a century of Home Economics, was held at the college on April 16 to 18, 1925. At that time the Home Economics building was officially named "Calvin Hall" in honor of Mrs. Henrietta (Willard) Calvin, '86, head of the work in Home Economics from 1903 to 1908.

Division of Veterinary Medicine

VETERINARY education in the United States has advanced with rapid strides. Originally a trade, it is now a science with a foundation as broad and thorough as any of the learned professions. As a result, it has attracted to its ranks the best of the high school graduates.

In the United States there are eleven veterinary schools, all connected with state universities and colleges. Like human medicine, the teaching of veterinary medicine is carried on entirely at public expense. It is recognized by the various states that prosperous agriculture depends to a large extent upon healthy live stock.

Entrance requirements of all American veterinary colleges are virtually the same—a preliminary high school education or its equivalent. The rigid enforcement of this requirement, by its selective action of the best class of young men, has been instrumental, to a large degree, in placing veterinary medicine upon a higher professional plane, and it has prevented overcrowding.

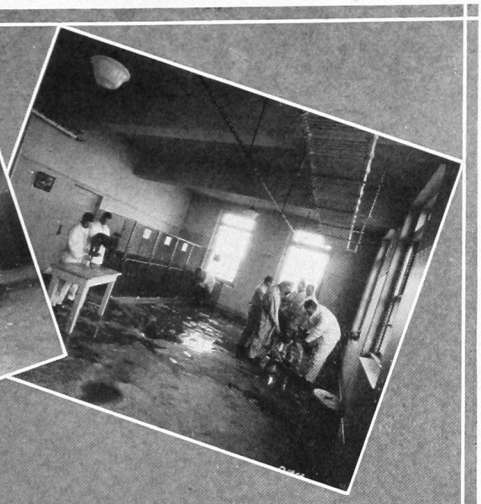

Veterinarians of today find lucrative employment as veterinary practitioners, state and federal veterinarians, as meat and sanitary inspectors, army veterinarians, research and laboratory workers, serum manufacturers, teachers, and many other vocations. The opportunities for the practitioner are almost without limit, because the value of live stock in the United States has increased from three billion dollars in 1900 to eight billion dollars in 1920, without a corresponding increase in the number of veterinary practitioners.

The Division of Veterinary Medicine in the Kansas State Agricultural College is one of two veterinary schools in the middle west. Its teaching staff, equipment, and buildings are unexcelled, and therefore for the 1924-'25 college year it has enrolled students from fifteen different states and two foreign countries.

Division of Summer School

ONE of the most important problems in Kansas is to furnish to the boys and girls in the public schools of the state, teachers trained in the social and economic needs of Kansas. Because the controlling purpose in this college is to meet the social and economic needs of the state, it was thought wise to open its doors during the summer months to the teachers, and not permit this $2,000,000 investment to lie partly idle during the summer. The hearty and immediate response from the teachers proves that this was a wise move.

ENROLLMENT

Biennium ending July 1, 1924	2,094
Biennium ending July 1, 1922	1,703
Gain	391
Per Cent. of Gain	22.2

Among significant achievements of the summer school are these:

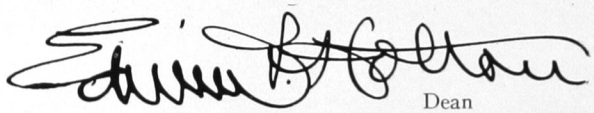

1. The summer school helps to keep the state's $2,000,000 plant at work practically the year through, giving teachers a special opportunity to attend college during their vacation.

2. An increase of 22.2 per cent in attendance was registered in the biennium 1923-'24 over the biennium 1921-'22.

3. Two thousand ninety-four teachers were trained who went directly into the schools of Kansas.

4. The increase in the demand for community music and musical appreciation on the part of the teachers of the state was met in the summer school by overtime work on the part of the Department of Music.

5. Courses in community pageantry were continued. Every Kansas community is rich in historical facts and traditions and stories of the pioneers—the builders of the material and spiritual resources of Kansas. Community pageantry trains leaders for the production of pageants in their home communities. The summer school pioneered this work for the Middle West.

Division of Extension

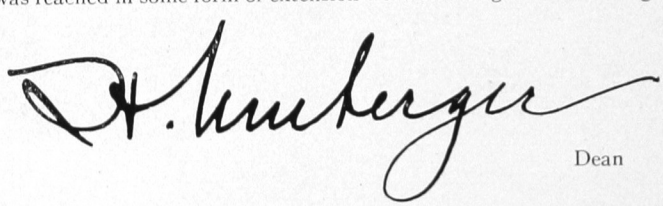

EDUCATIONAL activities are divided into three principal functions—resident teaching, investigational work, and extension. The two former phases are well recognized and established academically. The later, while not a new activity, has only been more recently recognized as a function of educational instruction although the activities for which it is responsible date back almost as far as the organization of the agricultural college. Practically every community in the state is reached through the extension service, and the assistance of the college is thereby made available. It may be truly said when taking into consideration the field of Extension Service that the campus of the agricultural college is the State of Kansas.

The activities of the Extension Service may be said to consist of "selling" the information available from this institution. The resident departments are responsible for originating new facts of value to the people of Kansas; it is the business of the Division of Extension to get people to use these facts. Thus the experiment Station may be said to be the manufacturing plant of the institution and the extension service the sales organization.

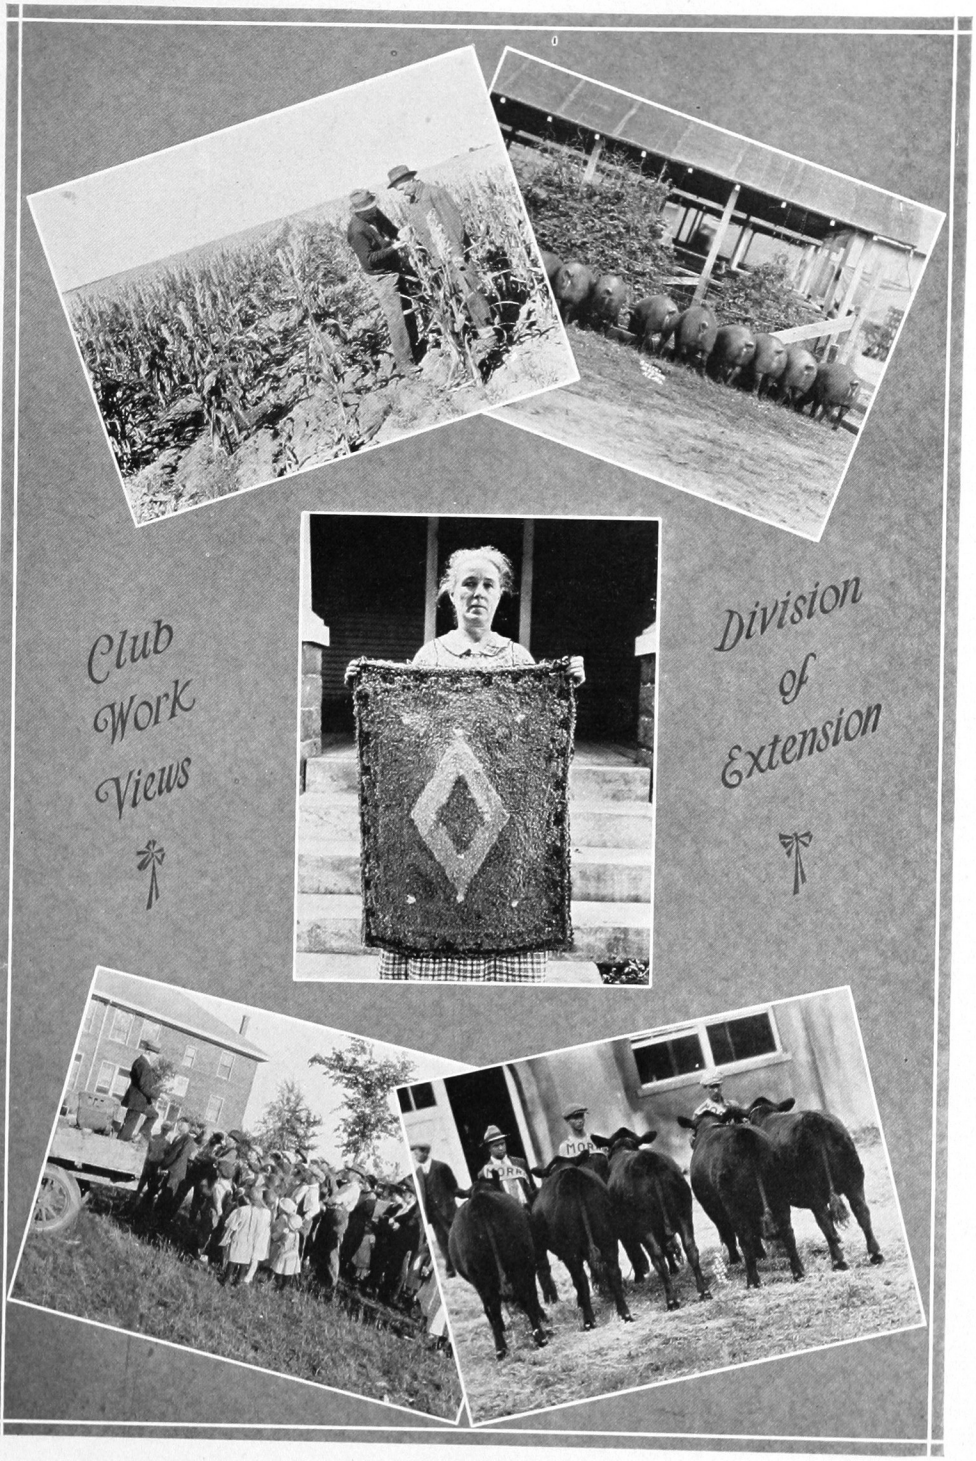

Extension work had its origin when members of the resident departments conducted farmers' institutes where they discussed theory as applicable to farm practices. The first farmers' institute was held at Manhattan, Kan., November 14, 1868. This was the first farmers' institute ever held anywhere.

Extension work was not recognized as such for many years. By 1899 the number of institutes had developed until there were several hundred held in Kansas each year. Today Extension Service includes the work of county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents, county club agents, and specialists.

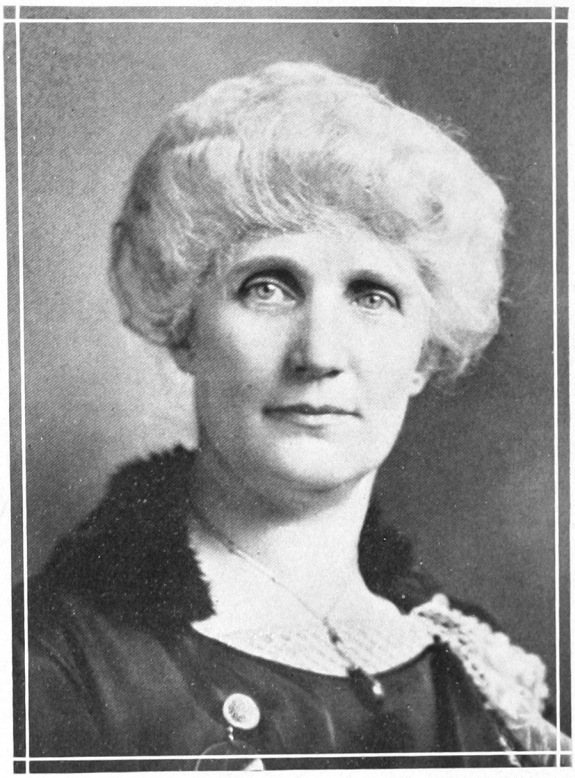

The development of extension work has been rapid and steady. During 1924 practically every community in Kansas was reached in some form of extension work of the agricultural college.

Dean of Women

THE position of Dean of Women is based on the ideal for students of the highest physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual development. Special interests of the Dean of Women include the student problems involved in living conditions, health, employment, vocational guidance, discipline, and social and religious life. She spends much time in serving on committees, in attending student meetings, in conference with students, parents and house mothers, but these duties do not express the deeper significance of her work. It is rather a service which has for its aim the effecting of better adjustments between students and the faculty, and the world in which they must live. Routine duties are the means only to the great end of the development of personality and character by the conscious and comprehensive adjustment of personal and group needs.

History of the Class of 1925

By Class Historian

CLASS histories are a necessary evil, designed to fill the page opposite the smiling faces of the class officers. Without a class history the page would be as blank as the faces, and that would be an excess of empty space. So the historian has endeavored to fulfill the duties of the office, as she promised, and write some imposingly long words for the page, which might impress the underclassmen.

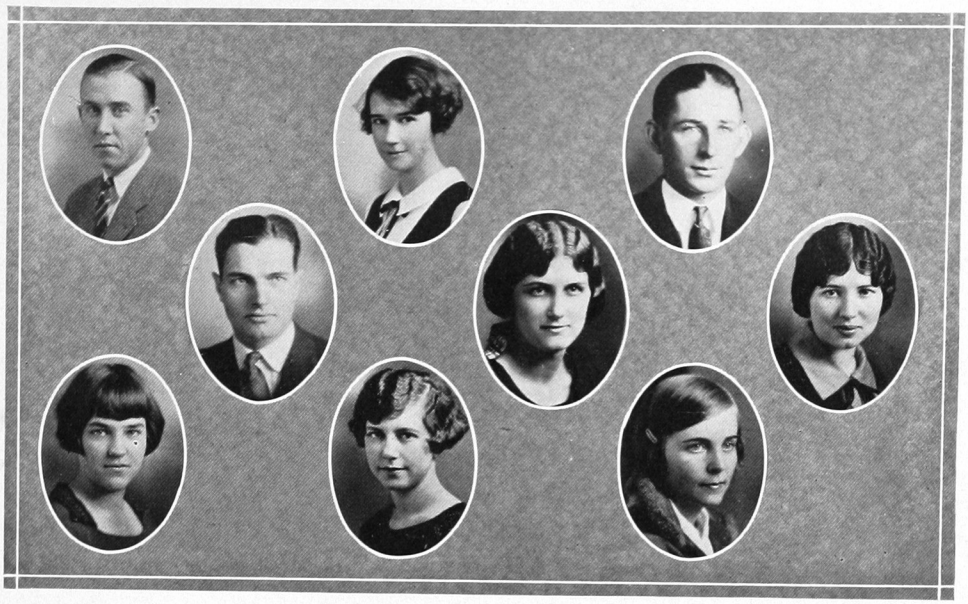

It is generally customary to say something about being the most brilliant class that ever ruled the hill. A historian generally mentions the one hectic class meeting of the freshman year, the great visions of future greatness conceived in the sophomore year, the great honors attained in the junior year, and the sadness of parting at the end of the senior year. And one always ends with that lifted note of hopefulness that the future will hold marvelous opportunities.

Looking back over four years of college life, the only thing one can find which truly distinguishes the class of 1925 from all the classes preceding it is the one fact that we subscribed unanimously as freshmen to the first stadium drive, and our college generation has lived to see a partial fulfillment of the promise to which we contributed.

For the most part we have flunked and drawn down E grades and had parties and class meetings and attended college functions just as all preceding classes have done. We will not claim any laurels for our unusual originality or outstanding ability, because we know that we do not have any such qualities. We have had good times and bad times in college, and we can only wish for future classes as much pleasure and real value from college life as we feel that we have secured.

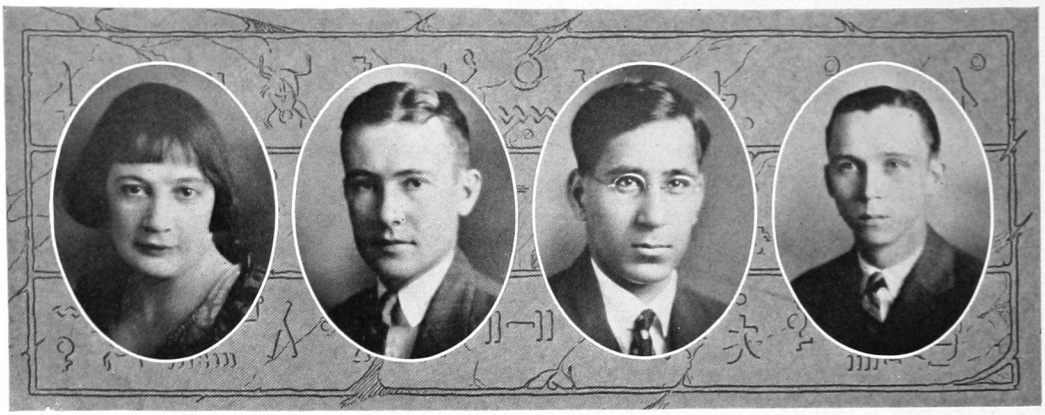

And as for the future—it looks cold and unsympathetic at times, but thrillingly interesting. Although we have enjoyed college immensely, we don't regret leaving at all. There is too much ahead of us for sorrowful backward glances.

History of the Class of 1926

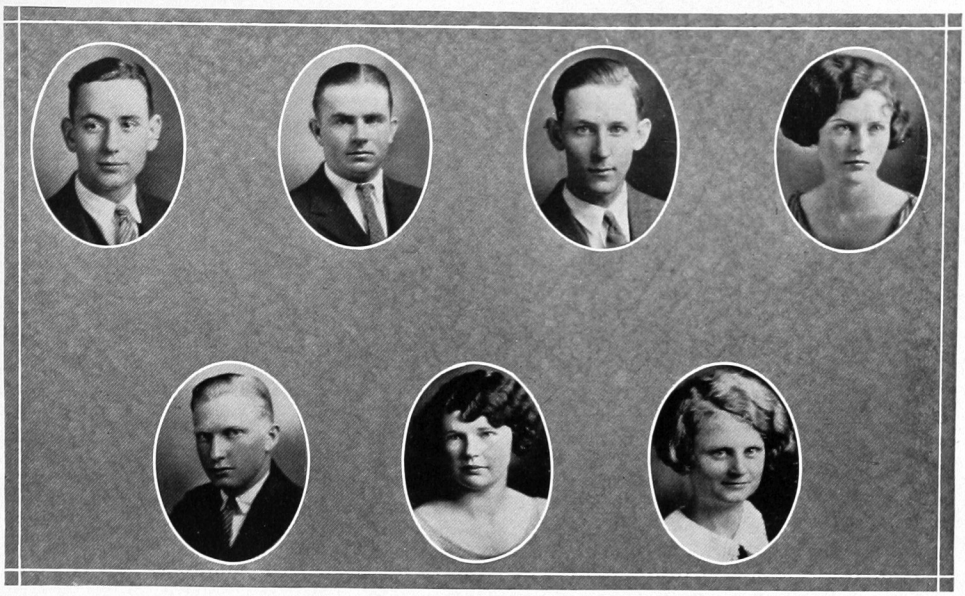

By Class Historian

WE DO not hide the fact that once we were freshmen—innocent, unsophisticated freshmen. In the fall of '22 we were glad to admit it. Now we are just ready to enter on our last year of college life before catching hold of the handrail of the graduation band wagon. Some of us have dropped out, but new ones have taken our places.

In athletics, politics, debate and social life the juniors have played their role. A very large class will become Seniors of '26 to carry on the work left by their successors.

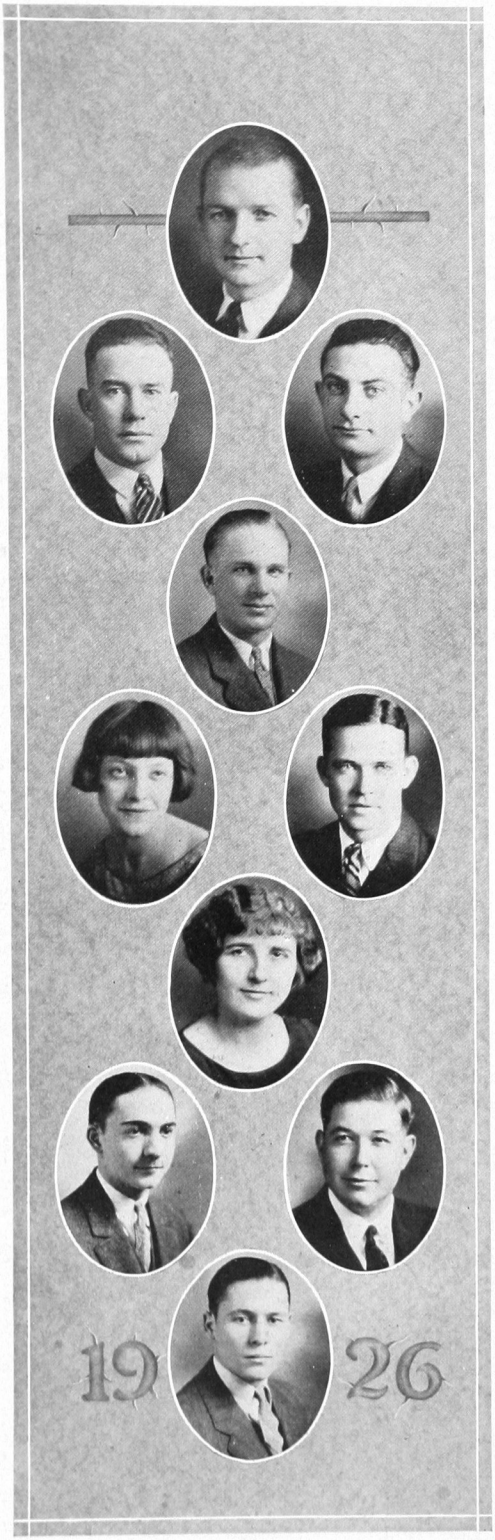

Many plans have been made for the Junior-Senior prom and it is expected to be one of the best ever given.

Sophomores

History of the Class of 1927

By Josephine Heath and Agnes Remick

As Freshmen in innocence we pondered,
On joys the coming years would bring;
If by following the sage advice rendered
By those whose praise we sing.

Our second year as Sophs
Makes us blasé, worldly wise.
Now we're started really well
On that road where knowledge lies.

We note the progress of the class,
The change from past to present,
And pride ourselves on the stream of thought
Which once was effervescent.

But as we glance toward yonder hill,
Which we have yet to climb,
We're thankful that we're only Sophs
And now can end this rhyme.

Freshmen

History of the Class of 1928

By Class Historian

"We're here in college,
We're here for knowledge—
Well, maybe we're here for fun."

* * *

ON THE eighth of September, 1924, the former students and faculty of K. S. A. C. were confronted with a new class. From every quarter of Kansas they came, representing Kansas' best. It is only natural that good students should gravitate towards a good school and this case has proved no exception to the rule. The Aggie traditions and the "old Aggie fight" have become realities to these new students and are having their part in influencing these seekers of knowledge.

The Freshman class has made a good showing during its first year at K. S. A. C. It has enthusiastically entered into all college activities and was well represented in them. The Freshman football squad could always be counted upon to furnish the Varsity squad a good scrap. In basketball, the Freshmen had an equally strong lineup and will no doubt be well represented on the Varsity team next year. In literary activities the Freshmen were also active and made some of the literary societies with creditable showing. The class of '28 also made itself known in a dramatic way. Quite a number of its members were taken into Purple Masque and a Freshman girl had the feminine lead in the Fall play.

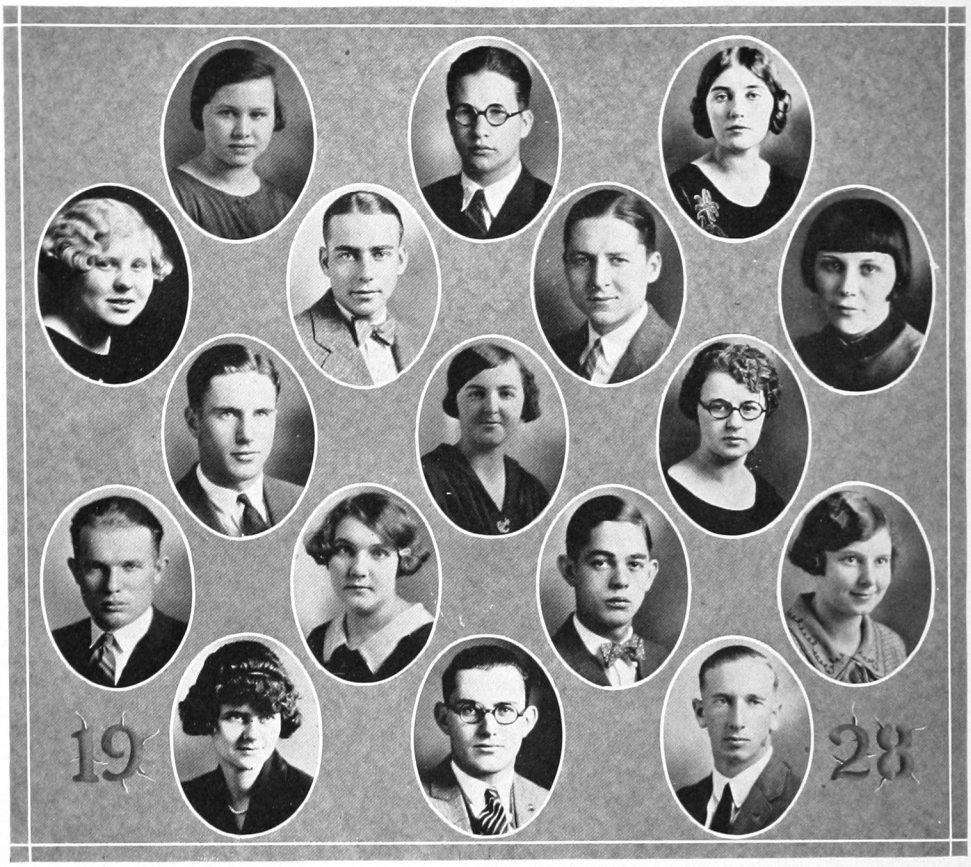

The Class of '28 has made a good beginning and it is expected it will take an increasingly important role in affairs on the hill in the days to come. Any class that has made itself felt as strongly as this one has is bound to be one of the very best.

Student Self-Governing Association

THE purpose of the Student Self-Governing Association is to place the control and advancement of student interests and activities in the hands of the student body itself, with the firm belief that this arrangement will cause an increased self-control resulting in higher ideals and co-operation, and that officers of sufficient wisdom and maturity can be found so that appeal to college authorities shall be unnecessary.

The value of the S. S. G. A. at this school is somewhat hindered by the fact that proper student interest is not manifest in the organization. Regardless of this fact, however, the organization is practically indispensable on the hill.

Every year the S. S. G. A. has charge of publishing and distributing the student directories. This year 3,500 copies were printed and distributed free to students and others from whom requests for copies were received.

One of the most popular actions of the S. S. G. A. this year was its request of the faculty council for an Easter vacation. Some little difficulty was encountered when the request was first made for the spring holiday, but after the annual Roughneck day and Campus Cleanup day were taken off the calendar, the faculty council and president agreed to the request of the student organization.

Perhaps the largest single affair of the S. S. G. A. this year, and the one which did K. S. A. C. the most good was the meeting of the Mid-West Student conference here on April 30, May 1 and 2. The convention was brought to K. S. A. C. entirely through the efforts of Jerry Dowd and Harold Gillman, delegates to last year's convention at Knoxville, Tenn. Two schools, Tulane University of New Orleans and K. S. A. C., were making high bids for the convention. The former offered an almost unbeatable gala of entertainment for the delegates. K. S. A. C. had very little to offer out of the ordinary along this line. Through the untiring efforts of our delegates, together with a splendid recommendation from the delegates of our sister school, the University of Kansas, the convention was granted to Kansas.

Delegates from 32 of the larger state universities and colleges in the middle west attended the conference. Among the many forms of entertainment planned for the delegates was a trip to Fort Riley, where a riding show and artillery review were presented by national army troops.

In addition to the usual budget made for the distribution of the funds obtained from the student activity tickets, the budget this year contained an appropriation of $500 to be spent for publicity for the college. Prof. C. E. Rogers, of the department of industrial journalism, has had charge of this publicity work and has sent out a great deal of news matter, prepared in type form, ready for printing.

The various committees of the council have functioned in such a manner that it is complimentary to their chairmen.

The S. S. G. A. has had a successful year during the 1924-'25 administration. With increased interest on the part of the student body, this organization should be invaluable next year.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers is a national organization of men engaged in the profession of engineering and mechanical construction. To further extend its sphere of usefulness, the society has established student branches in accredited engineering schools, each branch being under the jurisdiction of the society.

The student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was established at the Kansas State Agricultural College in 1917. Meetings of the branch are held semi-monthly and consist of discussion of current problems and talks by prominent men.

The Dairy Club was organized in 1914 for the purpose of promoting interest among its members in the field of Dairy Husbandry. Meetings of the club are held the second and fourth Monday nights of the month. They consist of an interesting and instructive program, which pertains to the dairy industry, followed by a short business session. The program is usually furnished by members of the club. However, men of prominence in any of the phases of dairying are secured whenever possible.

Dairy-Judging Team

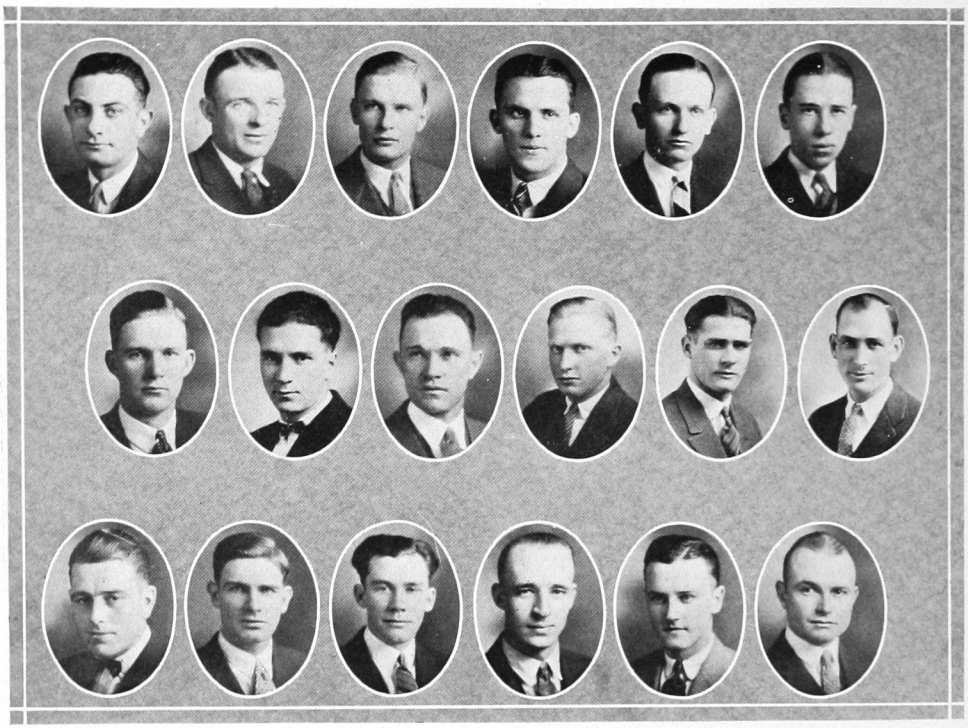

Top row—SARGENT, HAGANS
Second row—NORTON, PROF. H. W. CAVE, DALY

The Dairy-Judging Team for 1924 competed in national contests held at the Dairy Cattle congress, Waterloo, Iowa, and at the National Dairy show which was held at Milwaukee, Wis. The team placed eighth at the Dairy Cattle congress and ninth at the National Dairy show where twenty-four teams were entered. At Waterloo, W. J. Daly was fourth high individual.

In preparation for these contests the team visited some of the best herds in northern Iowa and Wisconsin.

K. S. A. C. has had a wonderful record at the National Dairy show being the only team which has ever won the contest for three consecutive years. This record is due largely to the consistent and able efforts of Prof. H. W. Cave who is nationally recognized as a leader in collegiate judging work. Though this year the team did not win, yet they were well above average for all the colleges represented.

HARTER BARNHISEL READ

THE Class of 1925, represented by the Staff of the Royal Purple, prompted by a desire to perpetuate the memories and spirit of its college days, humbly submits this resume of the school year 1924-'25 to the student body.

Since our school always has been represented by good yearbooks, the staff has not attempted to revolutionize the order, arrangement and other properties to any great extent. However, a few new ideas of arrangement and balance have been incorporated into the annual which we hope will gain the approval of its readers. An Egyptian motif has been used throughout. The cover, the opening pages, the division pages, the borders and the beauty section have been designed with the idea of carrying out this idea.

With the vision of a book worthy to carry the honored name of the Kansas State Agricultural College has been born the incentive to greater effort. The result, you, as readers, alone may judge. If public opinion pleases to pass with favor upon our humble efforts, we shall consider this book a fitting tribute to our Alma Mater.

THE FIRST college paper, a four-page weekly, was published in 1896, under the name of the Student Herald. It became the Kansas Agriculturalist in 1913, and in 1914 the first issue of the Kansas State Collegian was published. This change made it a semi-weekly paper and the official college publication.

This year the increasingly large number of students enrolled in Journalism made necessary a new plan of operation which was inaugurated at the beginning of the second semester. The editorial responsibility was divided between an editor-in-chief and a managing editor, and the reportorial organization was completely revised. Now all students enrolled in Journalism practice are reporters, and the number of departmental editors has been increased so that every student in the journalism department may have opportunity for experience in the publication of the paper.

The Brown Bull, the only humor publication of K. S. A. C., was established in 1920. It is published jointly by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternities for women and men, respectively. From its first issue, the Brown Bull has shown consistent progress and improvement in the quality of its humor and art.

This year the circulation has been 1,500 copies for each of the four issues. The humor and the art are almost entirely the work of members of the two journalistic fraternities and contributed by students and faculty of the college.

The Brown Bull ranks with the best of college humor publications, and is quoted by other college publications as well as national humor magazines.

The Engineer is published four times during the school year. It is a member of the Engineering College Magazines, Associated, an organization composed of similar publications in twenty of the leading Engineering Schools of the middle west and east. The Kansas State Engineer is sent to all the large universities and colleges in the United States, to most of the high schools, to the county engineers in Kansas, and to each engineering student at K. Department of Military Science

THE Reserve Officers' Training Corps is organized under authority of the National Defense Act, with the primary object of providing systematic military training at civil educational institutions for the purpose of qualifying selected students of such institutions for appointment as Reserve Officers in the military forces of the United States, and the secondary object of providing basic military training for those who do not complete the advanced course.

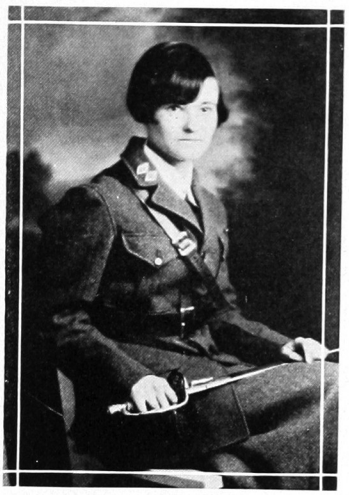

The advanced course has for its object:

(a) A good general education.
(b) A good special education in the academic requirements of the branch concerned.
(c) A well-disciplined body and mind.
(d) Basic and special military training pertaining to the branch concerned.

The ultimate purpose of the course is to produce men of self-confidence and aggressive leadership, capable of clear, quick thinking, and the faculty of concise, logical expression.

Miss Lucile Herr

IN ORDER that K. S. A. C. might maintain her position among the Missouri Valley schools as a leader in R. O. T. C. work, it was decided in 1923 to elect an Honorary Colonel from the Co-Eds of the school. The election of the Honorary Colonel was limited to the advanced course students.

In the spring of 1924, in order to foster more competition among the cadets, it was decided that each battalion would be permitted to elect an honorary Major. This election was open to all men enrolled in Military Science.

Miss Lucile Herr was elected Honorary Colonel, while Misses Virginia Reeder, Maxine Ransom, and Laureda Thompson were chosen as Honorary Majors for the three battalions.

IT HAS been found that in order to successfully cope with an emergency, it is necessary that we prepare ourselves for that emergency, so far as we are able, before it comes.

Nature has established a rule that only the fittest may survive. Therefore, in order that we may survive, we find that we must provide a defense against those forces that tend to destroy us. This holds true in all matters, hence, it is true of nations. This, then, is the basic reason for, "In time of peace prepare for war."

In all corporations, it is an established fact, that in order to make for efficiency, it is necessary to place in the various positions those who by their inclinations are the more nearly fitted for the positions.

This holds true of an army as well. We find that an army is composed of members of every profession and vocation.

THE function of the infantry units in our colleges and universities is to turn out graduates into the organized reserves, first as second lieutenants and later in the higher grades to replace the members of our Officers' Reserve Corps who are falling by the wayside for one cause or another.

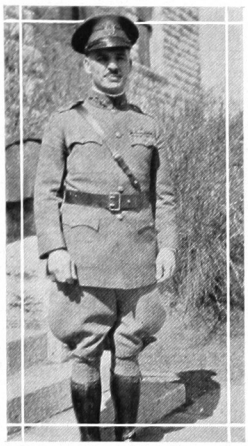

The principal offensive weapons of the infantry are the rifle and bayonet. These are reinforced by the automatic rifle and machine guns, which are most effective on the defensive. The 37 mm. gun, the three-inch trench mortar, and the tank deal with the resistances which are protected against the effects of the rifle.

Each of these weapons, with the exception of the tank, is studied in the R. O. T C.

Rifle Team

Capt. Waltz

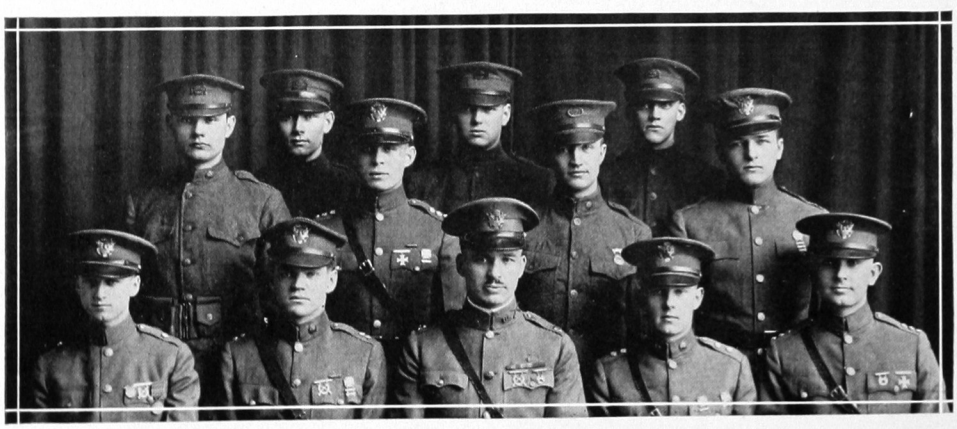

COMPETITIVE rifle-firing brings out the finest qualities of an individual's character. It is a real builder of character. Usually the best shots are good students, clean in habits, good sportsmen, industrious, and possessing great confidence in themselves. Their physical condition must be excellent. One possessing these qualities can always develop into a good rifle shot.

K. S. A. C. always has been well represented in this branch of sports. The year 1924-'25 is no exception. In competitive firing with the best teams of the country, K. S. A. C. won two-thirds of its matches and placed fourth in the seventh corps area inter-collegiate match, thereby winning a chance to compete in the national inter-collegiate match. This match has not been completed but from the scores turned in so far we are assured of a very high standing. Last year this school placed fifteenth in the Hearst Trophy match with 104 of the leading schools of the country. The scores for the Hearst match this year are higher than those of last year. As yet the final results have not been made known.

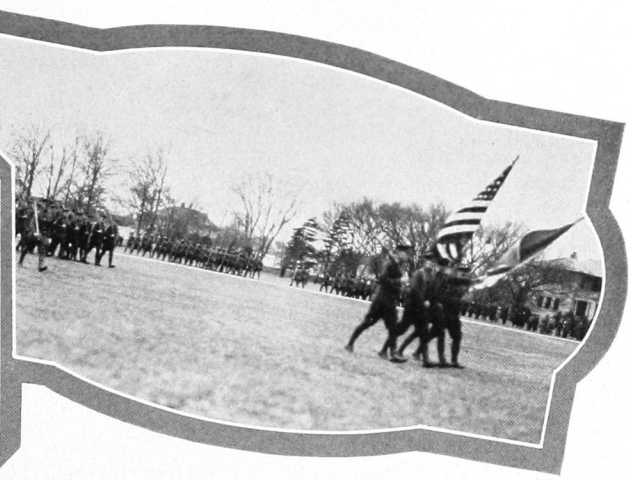

Ernest Miller, '25, team captain, deserves much credit for the excellent example and shooting pace which he set for the team. His loss this year, due to graduation, will be keenly felt. Other team members who are deserving of special mention for their scores are V. C. Hill, D. C. Taylor, Cecil Walt, E. E. Howard, T. H. Long, R. L. Roberts, and O. K. Correll. The other men on the team had less experience and although their scores are not of the highest quality, their work was commendable.

Three medals, gold, silver, and bronze, respectively, were awarded to the three team members making the highest total scores for the season. They were awarded as follows: Gold medal, V. C. Hill; silver medal, D. C. Taylor; bronze medal, Cecil Walt.

At the close of the season sweaters were awarded to the ten high-point men of the team. They were V. C. Hill, D. C. Taylor, Cecil Walt, T. H. Long, E. Miller, R. L. Roberts, O. K. Correll, E. Martin, N. Meek, and E. E. Howard.

ATHLETICS

MICHAEL F. AHEARN
Director of Athletics

JUST twenty years ago "Mike" started in Aggie athletics. In 1905 he was head coach of three major sports, at the same time teaching in the department of horticulture. Four years ago he was placed by the Board of Administration at the helm of Athletics, and it has been due to his efforts that the Aggie ship has made clear sailing.

For three years he has been a representative to the National Football Rules Committee. Until two years ago he was the only representative from west of the Mississippi river. His membership on this important committee indicates the high rank the Aggie director holds in the world of sport.

CHARLES W. BACHMAN
Head Coach

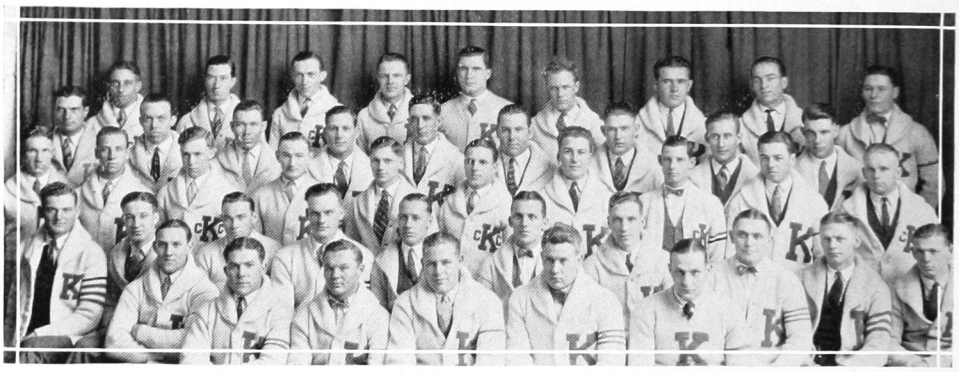

"BACH'S" never-failing frankness and honesty and his square-dealing with all who come in contact with him, have gained for him a popularity attained by few. He takes a personal interest in everyone who is willing to work for his team. As a football mentor, Bachman is considered the "last word" by Wildcat followers. Teams, inspired with the Bachman "I Will" spirit, are respected throughout the Valley for their clean, hard fighting. As coach of the cinder artists, Bach has attained great success. Under his direction such nationally known stars as Ray Watson, Ivan Riley, and "Red" Erwin have been developed.

CHARLES W. CORSAUT
Coach of Basketball, Baseball

IN THE two years that he has coached Aggie basketball and baseball teams he has won a firm hold upon the affections of Wildcat followers. An achievement his first year was to bring a basketball team, that for two years had held undisputed possession of the cellar, from the bottom of the Valley standing to an even .500 percentage. This year his team ranked among the best in the Valley and defeated the Kansas Jayhawkers, twice Valley champions, by an overwhelming score. His men delight in working for him and his teams are characterized by their teamwork, speed on the floor, and their accuracy in passing and shooting.

Review of the Season

THE 1924 Missouri Valley football season was characterized by an unusual number of good, very evenly matched teams. No team went through the entire season without a defeat. Missouri, with a team made up of veterans, captured the Valley title, losing but one game, that with Nebraska, of the six conference contests on her schedule.

The Nebraska Huskers with practically an inexperienced team, after losing their first game to the Oklahoma Sooners, won the remaining three Valley games on its schedule and captured second place. Third place was won by the Drake Bulldogs who, out of five Valley games, lost one, tied one, and won three. Washington University was the only team that did not win a Valley contest.

BRAINARD

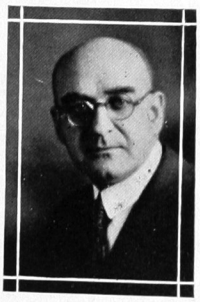

ROOT

The standard of play in the Valley was high. Missouri opened her season by journeying to Chicago and defeating the Stagg warriors who won the Big Ten conference title. Ames tied Minnesota University 7-7 but lost to Wisconsin, 17-0.

Two teams played inter-sectional games. On Turkey Day the Nebraska Cornhuskers defeated the Oregon Aggies in the last quarter, 14-0. Missouri lost a game on Christmas day, at Los Angeles, to the University of Southern California, 20-0.

A bright spot of the season's contests that will ever be remembered by Aggie witnesses is the defeat of the Kansas Jayhawker on Dad's Day. After battling for almost three quarters, always with a slight advantage but lacking the punch at a time when it was possible, the Aggies tasted victory when right halfback Don Meek picked up a Jayhawker fumble and raced 67 yards for the only touchdown of the game.

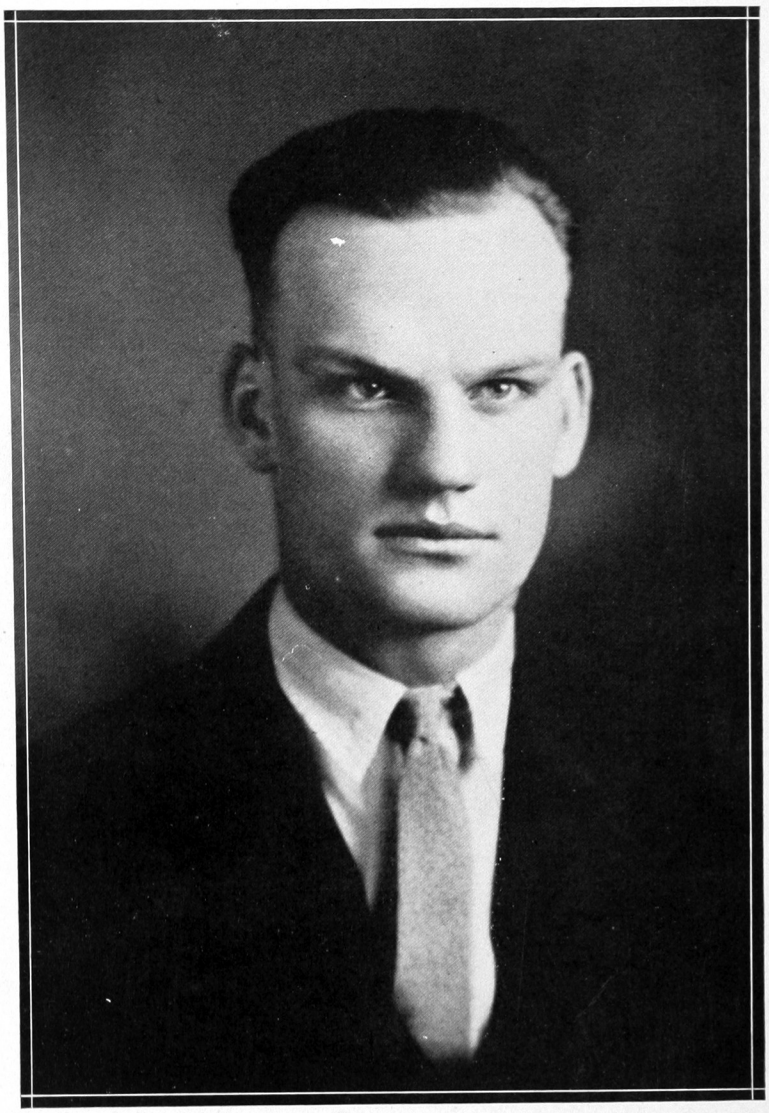

HOLTZ

Out of the 8 games on the schedule the team won three, lost four and tied one. Considering that the squad was, in the main, inexperienced, the season can be regarded as successful. The spirit of fairness, good fellowship, and co-operation, prevailing among the men and coaches, and the experience gained by the 14 sophomores awarded letters means much to the future of Aggie football.

LYLE S. MUNN
Captain of Football, '24

Washburn 0---Aggies 23

THE Aggies opened the season with a 23-0 win over Washburn College at Topeka. A special train was chartered to take the band and about 300 rooters to view the team in the first game of the season. The game was a good one to show the ability under game conditions of candidates for the team and gave all the new men a chance to get a little experience before they entered into the heavy Valley schedule.

The Aggie scores came from two touchdowns by Mildrexter, one by Havley, two goal kicks after touchdown by Cochrane, and a drop kick by Cochrane.

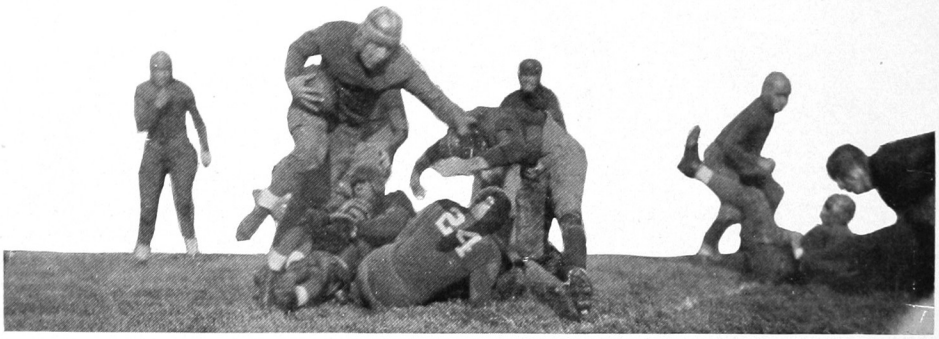

After six minutes of play the Aggies, by a series of passes and line bucks mingled with a few end runs, advanced the ball to within five yards of the Washburn goal line. Two line bucks by Mildrexter took the ball across for the first score.

Two more touchdowns were added in the second and third quarters and then Bachman made substitutions rapidly, giving practically every man on the squad a chance to play.

The defense of the Aggie squad was a feature. The line held the lighter Topeka team almost at will and numerous times tackled the Washburn backs for losses. During the game the Ichabods made 42 yards from scrimmage and lost 55 yards. The game brought to light the ability of several good backfield men. The work of a number of sophomore backs, among them Haveley, Hoffman and Feathers was outstanding.

Kansas Teachers 6---Aggies 19

IT TOOK sixty minutes of real football fight to conquer the fast, heavy proteges of Bill Hargiss from Emporia. Both teams fought to the limit throughout the game and at no time did the Teachers show the least sign of letting up. With the score 13-0 against them the Normals started a rush in the second half, that had it not been for a fumble, might have changed the result of the game.

Although the Aggies were against the wall several times, they managed to pull through with straight football, showing a reserve that indicated the strength of the line.

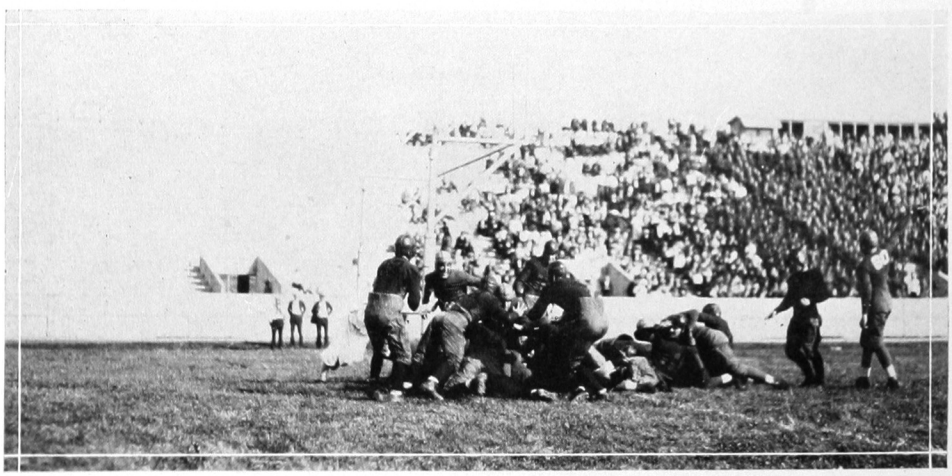

In the second quarter of the game the Aggies started a march down the field that carried them to the Normal's one-yard mark, but a fumble cost a touchdown. Later in the same period another by way of the aerial route and some line bucks by Mildrexter placed the ball across the Teachers' goal. In this same frame a brilliant run by Captain Munn, after receiving a pass from Butcher on the 20-yard line, netted the second Aggie counter.

Coach Bachman again started the use of the forward pass and out of eight passes attempted the Aggie squad completed five.

In the fourth quarter each team scored a touchdown. The Emporia counter was gained when Cochrane's punt was blocked on the three-yard line and the ball given to the Teachers on a penalty. Three line bucks put the ball across the Aggie goal line. Emporia failed to kick goal.

The last Aggie counter was made by Hoffman, left halfback, who made a beautiful 25-yard broken field run through the entire Normal team.

The Aggie passing combination worked well in this game, five of the eight passes attempted being completed.

Kansas 0---Aggies 6

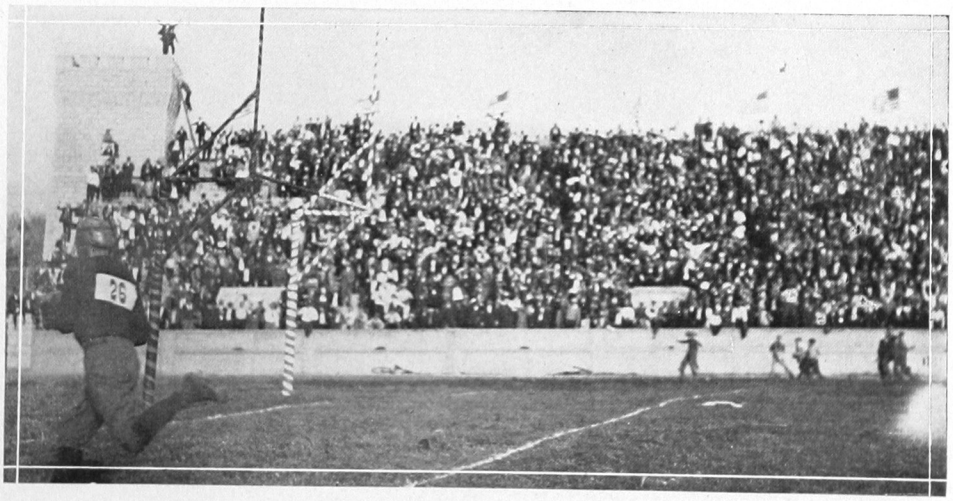

THE Aggies opened their Valley schedule by defeating Kansas U. 6-0 in a hard-fought game that kept 14,000 spectators keyed to a high, nervous pitch throughout. It was the first defeat handed the Jayhawkers since 1906 and broke the succession of tie games that had been played the two previous years.

Donald Meek, right half, playing his first game of Aggie football, made the touchdown after a 67-yard run. Thirteen minutes from the end of the game, Zuber, 215-pound half-back of the K. U. team, was tackled by Krysl, Aggie right tackle, and fumbled the ball. Meek, running into the play, snatched the ball off the ground and sped on to the goal for a touchdown. Cochrane failed to kick goal on the try for point.

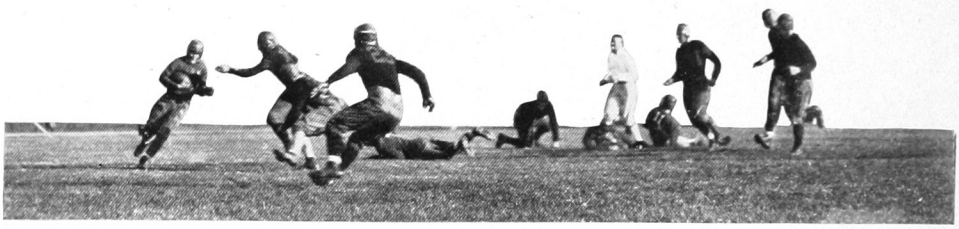

The Aggies clearly outplayed the opposing team in every phase of the game, with the exception of punting. The summary of the game shows that the Aggies made nearly double the number of first downs made by the Jayhawkers.

A big factor in the victory was the Aggies' strong reserve force and the strategy of Coach Bachman in knowing when to use this reserve.

A feature of the game was the way the lines of the two teams held fast whenever their goals were threatened. The work of Captain Munn, Ballard, Krysl and Harter in the line was outstanding in the Aggie play. Several times in the fourth quarter the K. U. team started to stage a comeback, but always the Aggie line and backfield had the power to stop them. Twice K. U. fumbled when it was costly. The game ended with Ballard, left tackle, tearing through the Kansas line and downing Zuber for a 15-yard loss.

Missouri 14---Aggies 7

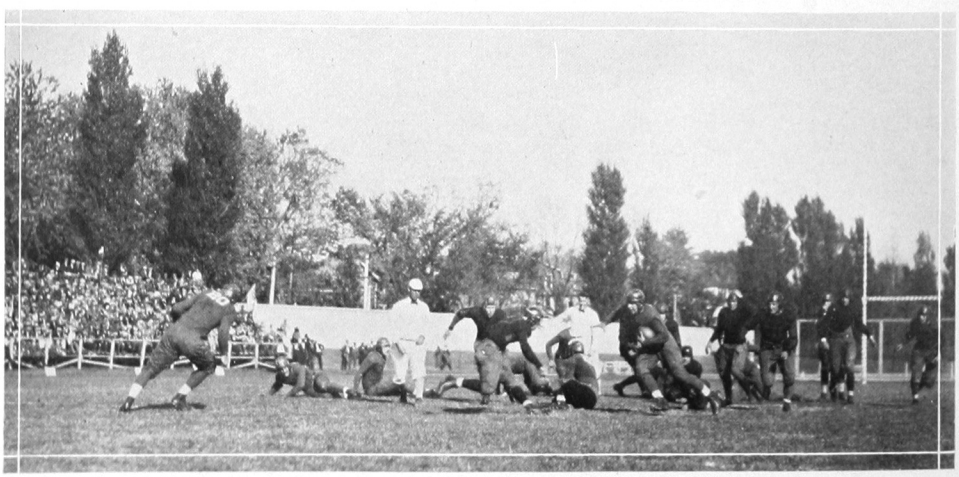

OUTSCORED but not outplayed by the "Missou" Tiger, the Aggies met their first defeat at Columbia by a score of 14-7. Both teams scored in the first half and until the final minutes of the last period the game looked as though it might be a tie. The Aggies took the offensive from the start of the game and continued to be on the offensive, scoring five minutes after the second quarter started.

Late in the same period Missouri, taking the ball well back in her own territory, started an offensive that took her across the Aggie line. Two forward passes, one for 54 yards and another one for 25, earned the first Tiger counter.

The third quarter was fought almost entirely in mid-field, neither team having any advantage. In the fourth quarter the Aggies again scented victory and after a series of line bucks and end runs had the ball in Missouri territory. Then a pass, Hoffman to Doolen, was called. It fell into the arms of Clyde Smith, Missouri center, who raced along the side-line to within a couple yards of the goal line, where he was tackled by Feathers, Aggie fullback, who had cut in across the field to get the Missouri center. Two charges by Captain Bond gave Missouri the winning touchdown.

Against the 12 first downs made by the Wildcats, Missouri made but 3. From scrimmage the Aggies gained 247 yards, while the best the Missourians could do was 128 yards.

Throughout the entire game the work of the Aggie line and backfield was supreme and time after time they held the heavy Missouri backfield for downs.

Iowa State 21---Aggies 0

IT WAS the upset of the season when the Ames team trounced the Purple and White warriors by the overwhelming score of 21-0 on Stadium Field. Overconfidence and staleness might have had something to do with the play of the Aggie team, but the fact remains that the Iowans displayed a brand of ball that took the Wildcats off their feet and surprised the 5,000 fans who witnessed the game.

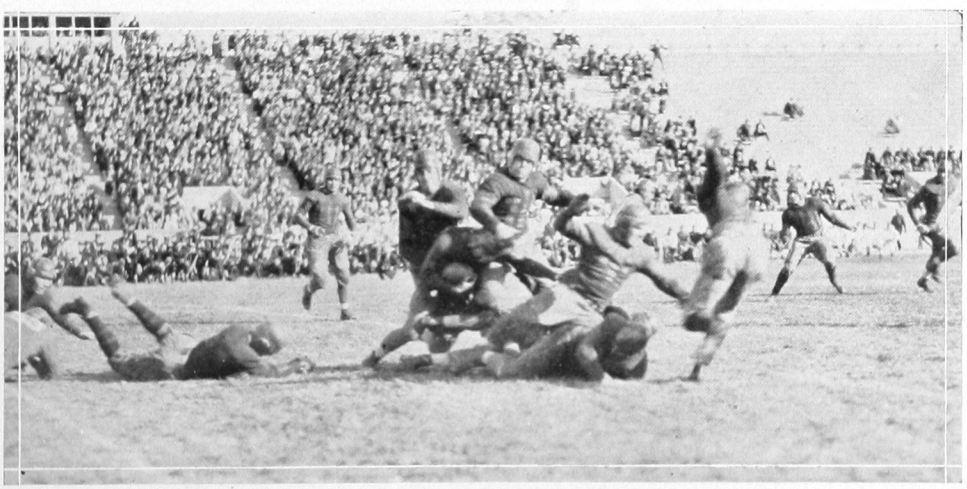

The Ames team scored in every quarter, using every possible means of counting up points—touchdowns, try for points after touchdowns, field goals, and safeties.

The first score was made on the kick-off. Roberts kicked off for Ames, the ball landing behind the goal line and bouncing back into the field. Mildrexter, fullback, snatched the ball and carried it back across the goal line, thinking that he was making a touchback. In this quarter the Aggie men made some good gains, but a fumble at a crucial moment lost them the ball and never again did they have the opportunity to score.

In the second quarter Ames started off with a rush, carrying the ball down into the danger zone in the first few minutes of play. A pass, Roberts to Nave, netted a touchdown. Later in this quarter Roberts made a place kick from the 26-yard line.

In the third quarter fast, shifty running by the Behm brothers and line bucks by Palin, Ames' fullback, netted the Iowans another counter. Another place kick by Roberts in the fourth quarter ended the scoring.

The work of the Behm brothers featured. Time after time they reeled off long runs around the end or squirmed through holes in the line. The work of these men had much to do with the victory of their team.

Drake 7---Aggies 6

ALTHOUGH outplaying the Drake Bulldogs in every branch of the game, the Aggies lost the game with the valley leaders by a score of 7-6. The Drake touchdown was the result of a disputed decision by Umpire Denny. Anderson, playing quarter and safety for the Aggies, attempted to catch a punt on a pick-up, but missed the ball when it took a freakish bounce to his right. Lingenfelter, Drake end, recovered the punt and, although tackled by Anderson, shook off the safety and raced 25 yards to a touchdown. Umpire Denny ruled that the ball touched Anderson when it bounded away from him and that therefore the score was legal. Orebaugh kicked goal for the Bulldogs.

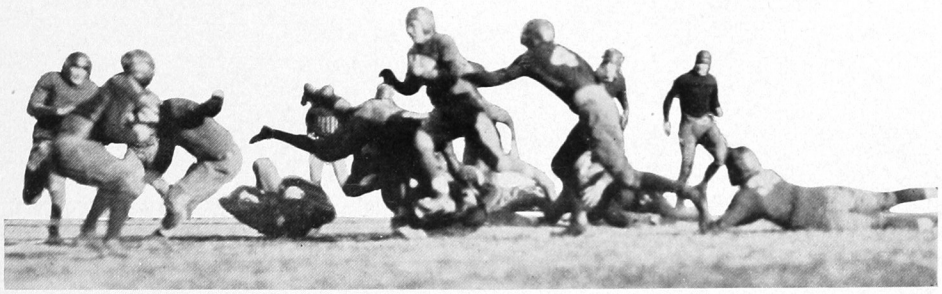

To Ray Smith, Aggie left half, goes the credit for scoring the Wildcats' touchdown and playing the most outstanding game of his career. It was his accurate passing, his consistent line plunges for long gains and his effective punting that aided the Aggies in completely outgaining their opponents.

The Aggie touchdown came in the first part of the second period when the Wildcats started a drive from midfield. A pass, Smith to Doolen, netted 30 yards. Wilson tore through the Drake line for nine yards. Whitfield hit the line for two more, and first down. Then Smith on the next play went off tackle for a touchdown. McGee failed to kick goal and the score stood 7-6.

A summary of the game shows that the Aggies gained a total of 334 yards against 241 made by Drake. During the game the Wildcats earned 14 first downs and the Bulldogs 9. Also in passing and punting the Aggies held the advantage.

Nebraska 24---Aggies 0

NINE thousand spectators saw the Aggies and the Huskers battle fiercely Homecoming day, for two quarters, neither team having any advantage. In fact, the summary at the end of the second quarter showed that both teams lost more yardage than they had gained. In the first half both teams presented impregnable defenses. It was not at all uncommon for the carrier of the ball to be downed anywhere from two to six yards behind the line of scrimmage.

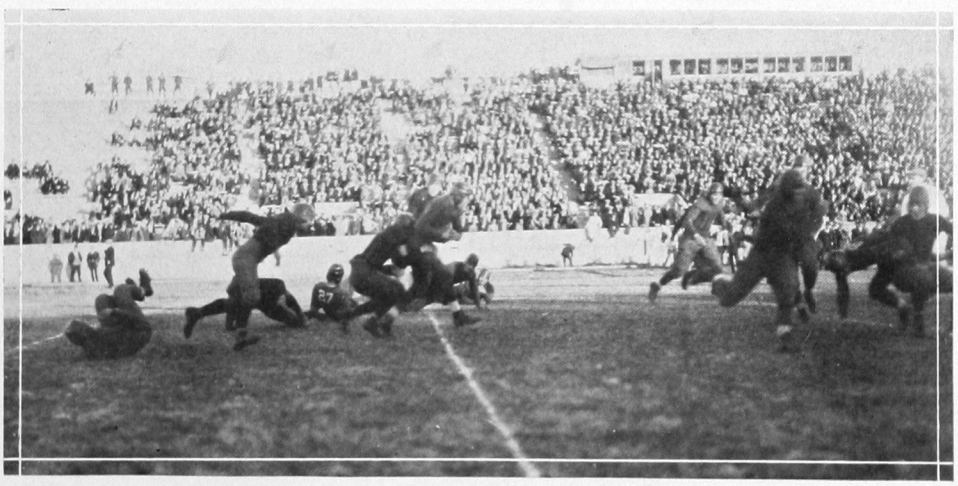

Near the end of the half Bloodgood, Husker quarter, seeing that his team might not make the required yardage in four downs, dropped back and booted a perfect field goal from the 37-yard line.

At the beginning of the second half the Aggies started a rally, but it was not long-lived. Nebraska tightened and held for downs. Then Locke, speedy Husker half, taking the ball at short-punt formation, executed a beautiful run for 70 yards and the first touchdown.

In the last quarter Nebraska opened up with a series of long passes that completely surprised the Wildcats. Two long passes were completed, each netting a touchdown. And each time the try for point was successful.

The Aggie line, though clearly outplayed, did not fail to contribute generously to the high-powered nature of defensive play, and time and time again the Wildcat forwards cut through to throw the Nebraska backs for sizable losses.

In this game five Aggies, Captain Munn, Hutton, Harter, Doolen and Butcher, played their last game on Stadium field. The work of these men has been outstanding in Valley circles.

Oklahoma 7---Aggies 7

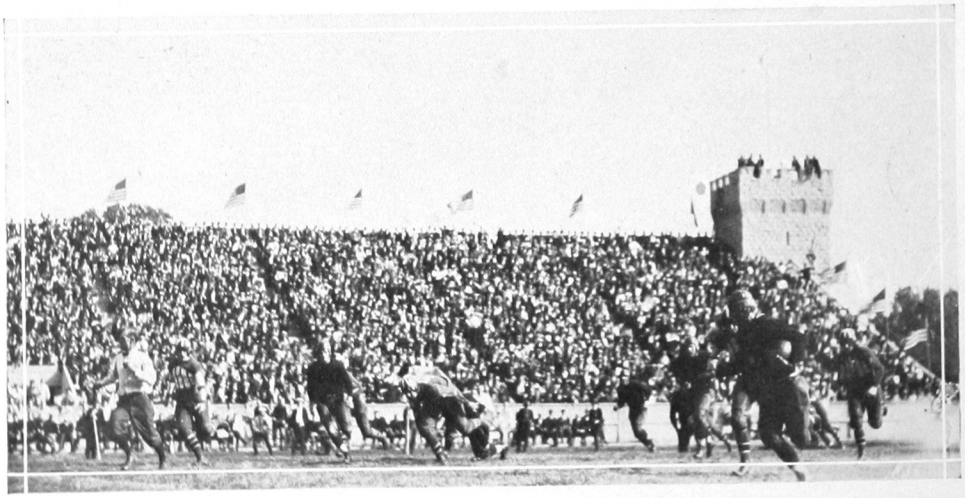

BESTING the Sooners in every department of the game the Aggies were unable to get anything better than a 7-7 draw with Bennie Owen's Oklahomans. It was the Aggies' advantage in every quarter. In the first period they gave it away. An Aggie pass, Smith to Doolen, was called. In the four years that this particular pass has been used it has never been intercepted. Smith caught the ball, flipped it yards from its mark squarely into the hands of Lamb, Oklahoma halfback, who tucked the pigskin under his arm and sprinted 40 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown.

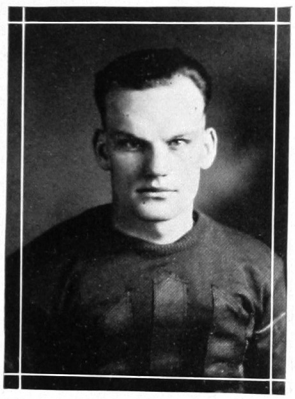

The Aggies had entire command of the rest of the game. The pass was used consistently and it gained yardage, but failed to annex points.

Although threatening to score in every period, it was not until the final frame that the Wildcats managed to cross the Oklahoman's line. A number of end runs and passes brought the ball down to the seven-yard line. Here Smith made the remaining distance on an off-tackle play.

The work of Feather, Aggie fullback, was outstanding. In the second half he took the ball from the Aggie 34-yard line to the Oklahoma five-yard line almost unaided. Time after time he drove off tackle for consistent gains. On the Oklahoma five-yard mark Meek was given the ball on a wide end run, but the Aggie linemen failed to stop Smoot, big Oklahoma tackle, who nailed the Aggie half 15 yards behind the line of scrimmage.

A summary of the game shows that the Aggies earned 20 first downs to four earned by the Sooners. In yardage the Aggies greatly outdistanced the southerners, making a total of 232 yards from scrimmage while the Owenites made 113 yards. Out of 21 attempted passes the Aggies completed nine for a total of 92 yards. The Sooners completed two passes which netted them 36 yards.

THE Wildcats finished the season in a tie for third place with Washington University, each having won 10 and lost 6 games. In number of points scored the Aggies stood highest in the valley with a total of 472. Oklahoma was next with 463 and Kansas University was third. Of the six defeats, four occurred on the home court. The team away from home seemed not to be bothered with nervousness, which at times afflicted its members on the home court, and won six out of the eight games played on the road.

DOOLEN

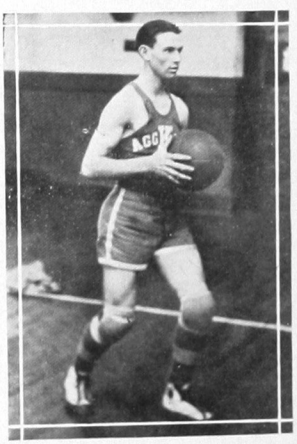

Bunker, midget forward, was high point man of the Aggies and lacked but three points of leading all the valley scorers. Byers, forward, and Tebow, center, were among the seven leading valley scorers. Tebow made the record of scoring the most points in any one valley game. Against Missouri he caged nine field goals and 6 free throws for a total of 24 points.

The season opened with the Huskers on the Aggie court. The body contact style of defense used by the Nebraskans seriously handicapped the Wildcat offensive and they collected but 11 points, while the larger, taller Husker five gathered 23.

Then what the Valley thought impossible happened. The Aggies journeyed to Lawrence and defeated the mighty Kansas five by the decisive score of 40-28. At the first of the game the Kansas five got a lead of six points. But this advantage apparently was only stimulus that set the Aggie aggregation to working. Once it started it was never stopped. At the end of the first half the score was 17-14 in favor of the Wildcats. Coach Allen tried numerous combinations to stop the steady scoring Wildcats, but to no avail.

With five minutes to play and the score 32-16 in favor of the Corsaut men, Aggie subs were sent in to finish the game.

The Wildcats had little difficulty in calming teams from Ames and Drake which came down the next week. The first half of the Ames game was a see-saw affair ending at a balance of 13-13. In the last half the Aggie combination got together and bagged a total of 20 points while the best Ames could do was to gather 6. Drake proved not over-hard opposition the following night, being defeated 33-17.

BYERS

The next week the Wildcat squad took a trip to Iowa and played Grinnell, Ames and Drake. The game with Ames resulted in a 34-20 victory for the Aggies. The Drake Bulldog took the short end of a hard game that ended 28-24. Grinnell took a reef in the championship hopes of the Aggie squad. After a game full of thrills, neither team at any time having a substantial lead, the Pioneers finally nosed out a 25-24 victory.

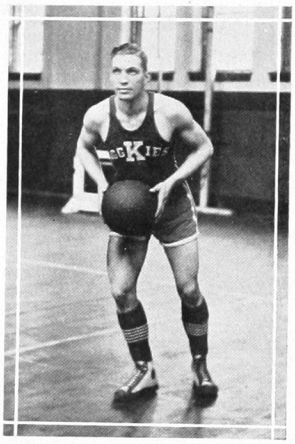

Oklahoma next invaded the Aggie camp and left the Wildcat squad thinking over a 35-23 defeat. Neither team played up to form and the game was uninteresting.

Missouri duplicated the feat performed by the Oklahoma squad and added another defeat the following Monday night, 28-24.

On the next night, Grinnell came down with the intention of administering another defeat to the Corsaut men. But the visitors were doomed to disappointment. For the first half the two teams battled on almost even terms. In the second period, however, long shots by Byers and short ones by Bunker gave the Aggies a substantial lead which they held to the end of the game. The final score was 37-26.

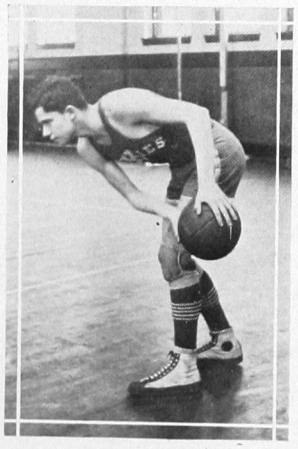

The following week the team journeyed to Lincoln with the intention of retaliating upon the Nebraska Huskers for the previous defeat. However, Nebraska was again master of the situation by a score of 30-20. The Husker quintet was the only team which could claim a double victory over the Aggies.

TEBOW

A great crowd, that packed Nichols gymnasium to the limit, was on hand to see the K. U.-Aggie game. The play was activated by the rivalry that exists between the two schools and it was not until the last few minutes of play that the Jayhawkers were able to pull out of danger. The K. U. defense was powerful and held the Aggie scoring machine to 17 points. Ackerman for K. U. played a stellar game and scored 10 of the visitors' 27 points.

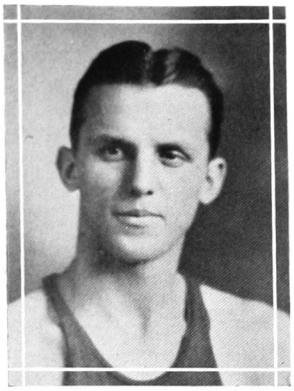

The Aggie squad was successful in each of the three games on its final trip. The first game was with Oklahoma. Here the Aggies returned the defeat handed them at Manhattan. Byers and Bunker each scored seven goals from the field and were the high point men in the game, which ended 34-29. The Pikers at St. Louis were the next victims, being forced to take the short end of a 37-26 score. In the final game on the road the Aggies stopped off at Columbia and twisted the Tiger's tail for a total of 43 points. Tebow was at his best and scored 24 points.

WEDDLE

The final game of the season was with Washington University on the Aggie court. The game was one of the fastest ever played in Nichols gymnasium and held the crowd spell-bound. Long shots by Byers, two of them being from past the center of the court, and close work under the basket by Tebow were features of the game. Cox, Piker guard, held Bunker, who lacked only a few points, of leading the valley scoring, to three field goals and three free throws. The game, exciting throughout, was a fitting close to a successful season.

Both years in which Coach Corsaut has directed the destiny of Aggie basketball, his teams have been noted for their driving finish. Last year after having enjoyed a medicore season the players fought their way to victory in the last four games, thereby gaining an even break for the season. This year the team accomplished the seemingly impossible—defeated Oklahoma, Washington and Missouri on a long road trip and then returned home and defeated Washington in the final tilt of the season.

CAPTAIN ARTHUR DOOLEN — Manhattan

Three-letter man

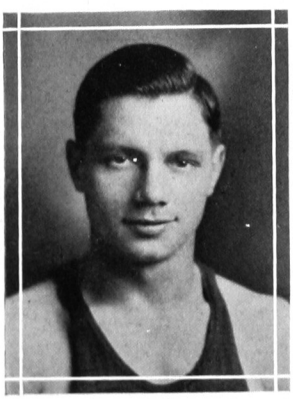

An excellent guard in the back court. He was always steady and was an inspiring leader. He had a knack for getting the ball from the opponents' backboard and getting rid of it quickly.

CAPTAIN-ELECT FRITZ KOCH — Burlington

Two-letter man

A reliable running guard who could dribble, pass, and shoot. Fritz was always steady and knew just what to do with the ball. His ability to hustle into the back court and to snatch the ball from the backboard was valuable. He will make a good leader for the 1926 team.

KERNEY R. BUNKER — Kansas City, Mo.

Two-letter man

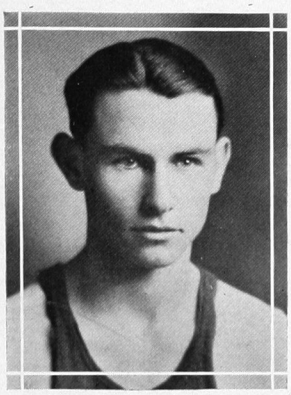

Bunker was one of the midgets of the Valley, but this was by no means a handicap to him. He was an accurate goal-shooter at close range and closed the season two points behind the leading Valley scorer. His speed enabled him to break through almost any defense and get the close ones.

ERIC TEBOW — Scandia

Two-letter man

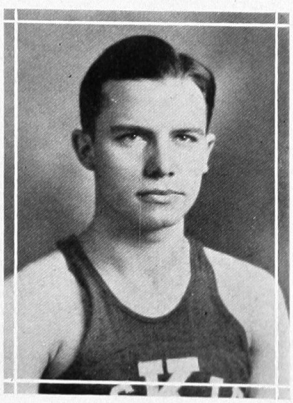

Although lacking in height, he played the center position well. He is very aggressive and a hard fighter under the opponents' basket. Many times he dribbled through the defense and scored. He is an able passer and guards well.

CLIFTON A. BYERS — Abilene

One-letter man

In his first year at forward he established a record for being an able shot at long distance. His long shots often demoralized the opposing defense and paved the way for short counters. He is an accurate passer and a good floor man.

H. M. WEDDLE — Lindsborg

One-letter man

Another sophomore who developed real basketball ability. "Doc" is an able utility man and can play center, forward, or guard. He is steady, a good dribbler and a fair shooter. He has the ability to size up the opponents' offense and break into it.

Freshman Basketball

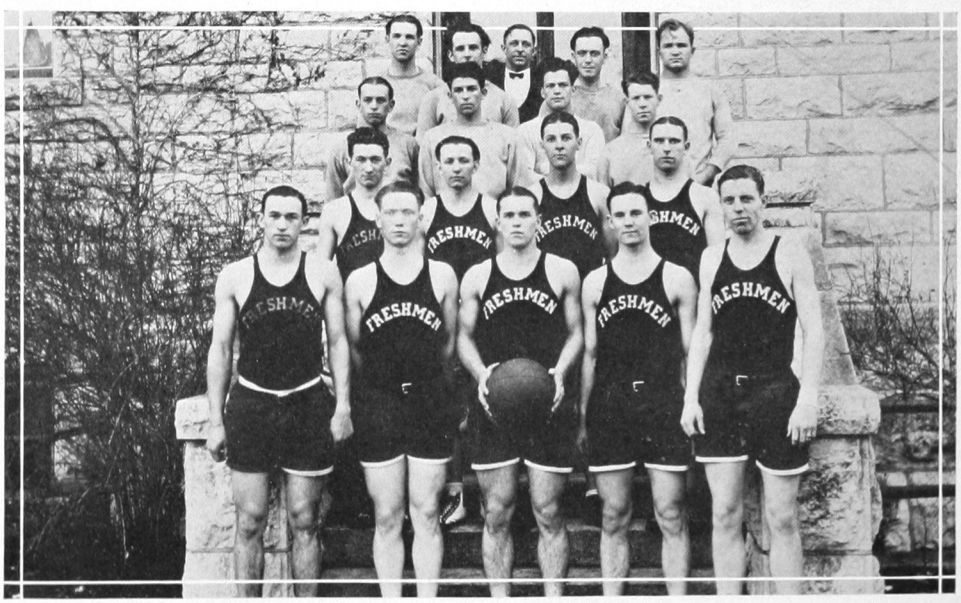

Coach Root

AMONG the yearling basketball candidates was an unusual amount of good material. While there were no outstanding stars, the team under the coaching of Frank Root made noticeable advancement in passing, dribbling and shooting. Almost daily scrimmages were held with the Varsity and many times the Frosh scored more heavily than did Varsity five.

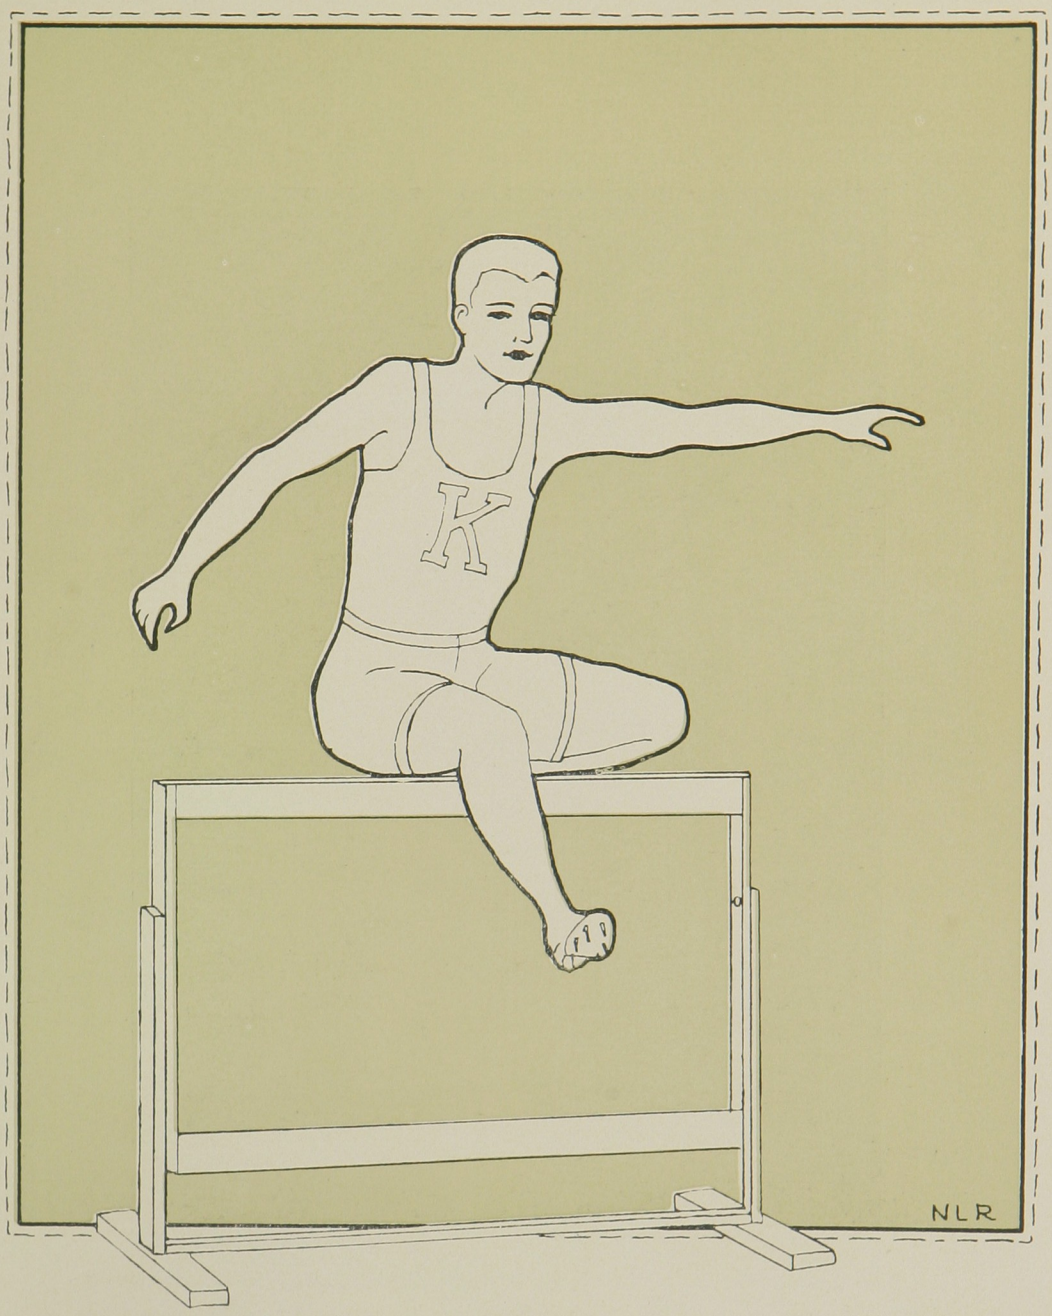

After the end of the season Coach Corsaut took charge of the squad and started building the machine for next year. For the benefit of the visitors and basketball teams here for the Kansas high school sectional tournament, the Frosh and first string Varsity played an exhibition game, which the Varsity had some difficulty in winning, 25-27.

For the first time in the history of the school the athletic board voted to give numerals to freshman basketball candidates who could qualify. Ten men survived the cut and received the award. The outstanding men on the squad were R. R. Osborne, G. B. Discus, G. J. Davidson, A. R. Edwards, R. E. Haskard, F. L. Hawkins, J. C. Hopkins, E. H. Mertell, J. F. Price and A. D. Lovett.

Each year the basketball material increases and now with the granting of basketball numerals to freshmen, Frosh basketball is on a par with football. The team showed ability to progress and willingness in co-operation. Much of the success of the freshman team is due to Coach Frank Root who tutored the squad.

Track

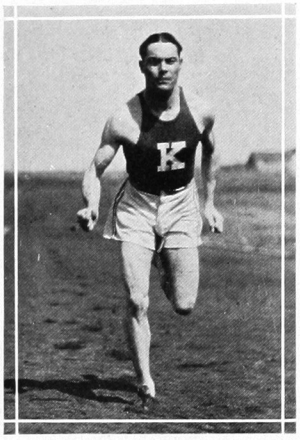

L. E. Erwin
Captain Track, '24

Review of 1924 Track Season

THROUGHOUT the season of 1924 the Kansas Aggie track squad was characterized by a few outstanding stars rather than by a well balanced team. Such men as Captain L. E. "Red" Erwin, Ralph Kimport, and John Gartner were fairly consistent point winners in all the meets, including the Kansas relays, the Drake relays, and the Missouri Valley conference meet.

Ten men performed sufficiently well throughout the season to be awarded letters in the sport. These men were Captain L. E. Erwin, Ralph Kimport, Kenneth Knouse, John Gartner, August Balzer, Fred Brunkau, E. E. Coleman, H. A. Brockway, Norman Roberts, and Phillip Carter. Due to the stiff requirements for a letter there were several other men who did not receive awards but who displayed considerable ability. Among these were Lyle Munn, shot putter; H. D. Sappenfield, sprinter; Art Doolen, hurdler; Charles Logan, hurdler; and several others.

ERWIN

The team made an average showing during the indoor season. It engaged in no dual meets but confined its attempts to the K. C. A. C. meet, the Illinois relays and the indoor Missouri Valley meet. Erwin, Kimport and Balzer were point winners in these meets.

The outdoor season opened with the Kansas relays held at Lawrence in April. Here Erwin succeeded in winning the 100-yard dash, the medley relay team made up of Kimport, Knouse, Brockway, and Coleman won third, and John Gartner placed fourth in the discus throw with a distance of 129 feet 6 inches. This throw broke his own Kansas Aggie record.

At the Drake relays on the following week end Erwin took second in the 100-yard dash and the four-mile relay team placed fourth.

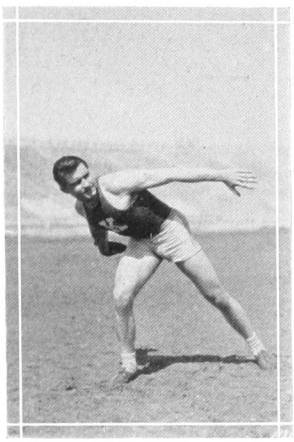

The first dual meet of the season with Kansas University went to the Jayhawkers by a 62 to 50 count. Each team won seven first places but Kansas took ten second places while the Aggies gained four. First-place winners were Erwin, Carter, Gartner, Balzer, and Kimport. Erwin won both dashes and Kimport the half and the mile.

The next week end Missouri met the Wildcats on Stadium field and won the meet by a 67 to 45 score. Erwin won both dashes, Knouse the quarter-mile, Kimport the mile, Brunkau the javelin, and Kimport and Coleman tied on the half mile.

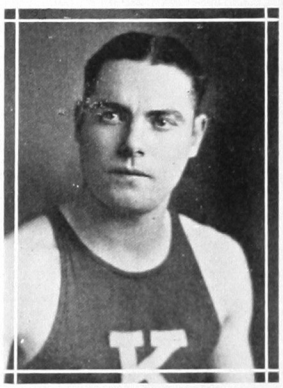

The losing streak continued the next week end in the dual meet with the Nebraska Cornhuskers. The final score was 78-39. The features of this meet were the two clashes between Erwin of the Aggies and Locke of Nebraska. Erwin won both the events but he was forced to exert his utmost speed to win. The time in the 100-yard dash was $9^{4}/_{5}$ seconds and in the 220-yard dash 20.9 seconds. This last time broke the Missouri Valley record for the distance.

GARTNER

The Valley meet held at Lincoln on the following Friday and Saturday was a disappointment to the Aggie fans. Only three men, Erwin, Kimport and Gartner placed in the meet. Erwin was defeated in both the 100 and 220 by Locke in much slower time than was exhibited by the two on the preceding week end. Kimport was forced to do his utmost in the mile in order to take third. Gartner threw the discus 129 feet for a third in that event.

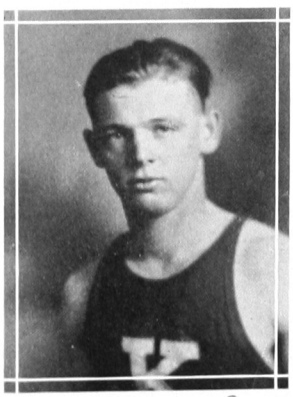

The team this year lacks a competent sprinter since "Red" Erwin's graduation last spring. However there were a number of good freshmen developed and the team shows promise of being a winner in the dual meets this year.

CAPTAIN L. E. ERWIN — Manhattan

Three-letter Man

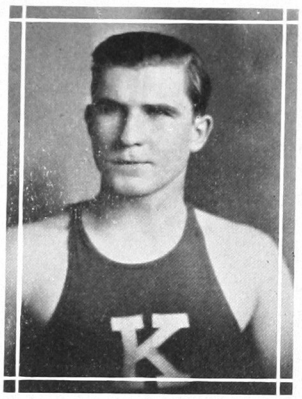

"Red" was the fastest sprinter that ever wore the Aggie colors. He holds the school record in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

CAPTAIN-ELECT K. G. KNOUSE — Valley Falls

Two-letter Man

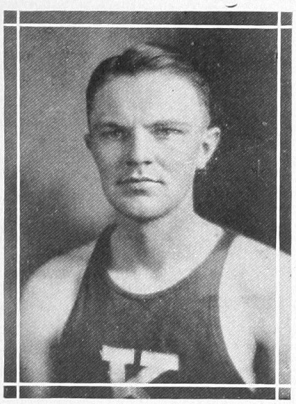

Knouse's specialty is defeating Missouri in the quarter mile, a feat he has accomplished during the past two years.

JOHN F. GARTNER — Manhattan

Two-letter man

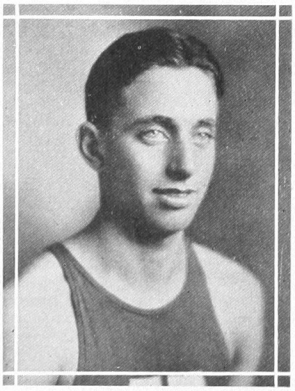

John has broken the Aggie discus record for two years straight and is scheduled to break it again this year.

AUGUST BALZER — Inman

Two-letter man

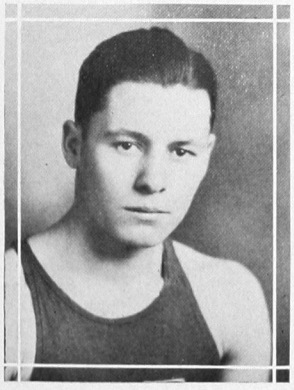

"Puff" is one of the hardest working men on the team. He is one of the Valley's fastest two-milers.

RALPH E. KIMPORT — Norton

One-letter man

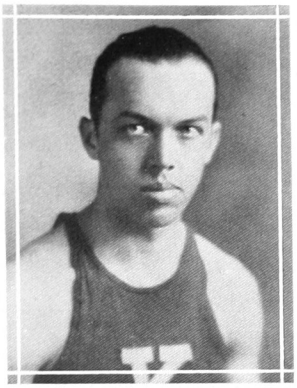

Kimport is becoming fast recognized as the peer of the Valley's distance runners. He has two years of competition left.

PHILLIP I. CARTER — Bradford

One-letter man

Carter lost a place in the Missouri Valley meet when the wind blew his vaulting pole on the cross bar and knocked it off.

NORMAN L. ROBERTS — Manhattan

One-letter man

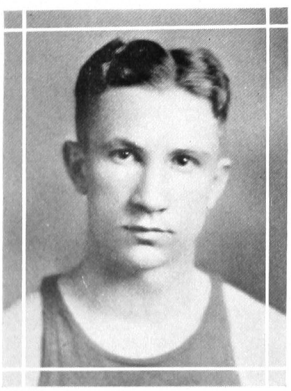

Roberts is a conscientious worker and is scheduled to make a good showing in the hurdles this year.

E. E. COLEMAN — Alma

One-letter man

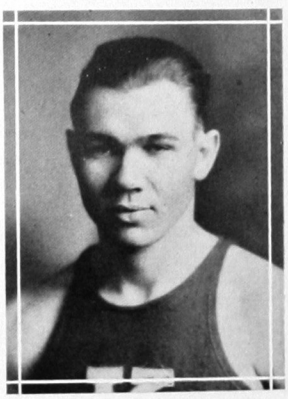

Coleman's favorite distance is the half mile, although he displays considerable ability in the quarter.

H. A. BROCKWAY — Olathe

One-letter man

Brockway saved the medley team at the K. U. Relays. When Erwin was injured he was called from the stands to take "Red's" place.

F. A. BRUNKAU — Ellinwood

One-letter man

"Iron Man" Brunkau won his first letter last year in the javelin throw. He also heaves the shot.

Baseball

GLENN S. AIKINS
Captain of Baseball, '24

1924 Baseball

THE Wildcats opened the season by dropping a close game to the St. Mary's nine, 3-2. Two errors and a hit gave St. Mary's the game.

The Aggies started the scoring in the third inning. Staley singled to right field and Ernst lined out a drive to center field that was good for three bases. With one out, Captain Aikins scored Ernst from third base. This ended the scoring for the Wildcats.

St. Mary's came back strong in the sixth frame and tied the count when they connected with a couple of hits and two walks. In the ninth inning, two errors by the Aggies and a timely hit by Mehren, St. Mary's right fielder, gave the Catholics the winning tally.

R. KARNS

He covered the territory well between second and third.

Conroy, who started in the box for the Aggies, worked well until the sixth, when he weakened slightly and allowed the Catholics two hits and two walks. Cunningham, who was sent in for Conroy, held the St. Mary's batsmen hitless until the ninth, when the winning run was driven in after two errors had been made by the Aggie infield.

Although three regulars were out of the game, the work of the Aggie nine was smooth. With the regular lineup, the game might have gone into extra innings.

Only nine hits were gathered from three pitchers, the Aggie hurlers allowing five and McEvoy of St. Mary's allowing only four.

Just for luck, 13 men made the trip to Oklahoma, where the Wildcats were to play their first 1924 Valley game.

The first game, with Henry Karns pitching for the Aggies, was a close one and was won by Oklahoma in the lucky seventh, when two men were out.

AIKINS

A leader, a deadly fielder, with a shotgun arm.

BARTH

An excellent fielder and lead-off man.

Until the seventh frame the score was two and two. A walk and two hits, both for extra bases, won the opening game for the Oklahomans by a count of 5-4. The Aggies bunched hits off the Oklahoma hurler in the fifth inning and drove in two runs, but after that they were held at bay.

H. KARNS

He could pitch, field and hit.

The following day the Oklahomans showed signs of going after a Valley championship and pounded two Aggie hurlers for 10 runs. The best that the Wildcats could do was to score one run. Only four hits were made off the effective hurling presented by the Oklahoma moundsman.

The handicap of a 13-man squad proving too much for the Aggie team, N. S. Barth, Aggie right fielder, who had been quarantined for the mumps and had been out of the lineup for the first three games, joined the team at Kansas City and broke into the game at Missouri.

With Conroy pitching, the Aggies played good ball and won their first Valley game from Missouri by a score of 5 to 3. The hitting of the Wildcat squad was a feature, but poor base-running held down the score. But the Missouri Tiger took sweet revenge to the tune of 9-0 the following day. Henry Karns was the victim for the second time on the trip. The Aggie batsmen were unable to connect with the offerings of Missouri's hurler and failed to score.

ERNST

Few balls got by the third sack when he was playing.

CUNNINGHAM

A consistent, hard worker, with a good arm.

Heady baseball, timely hitting and good pitching, coupled with numerous Jayhawker errors, enabled the Aggies to turn in a double victory against Kansas University.

Bernard Conroy was almost invincible in the opening game. Only 25 Kansas batsmen faced him in the first eight innings and he allowed but one hit. In the ninth frame he was touched for two hits, which scored the lone Kansas run. The Aggie swatters hit Davis, Kansas hurler, frequently and scored four tallies.

Cunningham, who pitched the second victory,

4-2, for the Wildcats, was effective in the pinches and allowed but six hits. Kansas scored two runs in the second inning, but after that Cunningham had things his way. The work of the Aggie infield and a perfect throw by Aikin from deep center to home plate, which cut off a Kansas tally, were features of the game.

The Aggies then journeyed to Lincoln and split a double bill with the Huskers. In the first game the Nebraskans scored three runs before the Aggies got started. Then Conroy tightened and stopped the scoring. With a three-run handicap staring them in the face, the Aggie sluggers in the fourth inning bunched hits off Lewellen, Nebraska captain, and scored three runs. Two more runs were added in the fifth. For the rest of the game both pitchers kept the hits scattered and neither team showed scoring strength.

SWARTZ
A good fielder around the first sack.

STALEY
A capable bunter, and dependable.

The second game was a hectic affair. Both pitchers were hit hard and the teams scored often. The Aggies scored four runs in the fourth inning by virtue of three triples and three singles.

In the same inning, the Huskers, determined not to be outdone by the Aggies, batted in five runs off Cunningham. In the next two innings the Nebraskans increased their lead to five runs.

In the fifth inning, however, a drive by Henry Karns, who had succeeded Cunningham at the mound, scored two. Another Aggie counter was registered in the sixth, tieing the count 8-8. Conroy then replaced Karns, but the Huskers were not to be stopped, and scored the winning run in the ninth.

CONROY
His arm turned in many victories.

Not satisfied with splitting a double bill with the Aggies at Lincoln, the Nebraskans journeyed to Manhattan the next week and took two more games. Both games were played on Saturday and were seven-inning affairs.

Vohs hurled the first game for the Aggies. At the end of the sixth the score stood 1-1. In the seventh inning, after two men were out, Dame Luck smiled on Nebraska. Two hits and three errors netted the Huskers four runs and decided the game.

The second game, with Henry Karns pitching, was a 6-3 victory for the Huskers. Nebraska showed hitting power and bunched hits in two innings, when they scored their six tallies. The Wildcat hitters were unable to do more than touch the fast ball of Lange, Nebraska hurler.

VOHS
He beat Oklahoma 1-0.

Minus Captain Aikin, who broke an ankle in practice, the Wildcats met the Haskell Indians and sent them home to think over a 7-0 defeat.

Conroy again was master of the day. Although he was touched frequently for hits, they were not bunched, and the Redskins were unable to gather a lone tally.

The feature of the game was the hitting of the Karns Brothers, who together made seven of the ten hits with which the Aggies were credited.

It took ten innings to decide who would be the victor of the first game between Missouri and the Wildcats here. The Aggies emerged, by the aid of the loud yelling crowd, on the long end of a 5-3 score.

The Missouri squad bumped Cunningham for a number of hits and three runs in the early innings. In the seventh frame the Wildcats connected, and, by the aid of a Missouri error, scored two runs. In the tenth inning two more runs were added and the game was won.

BIEHN
A backstop, with a good arm.

Missouri got an early lead in the second game of the series. In the seventh inning the Aggies pounded in two runs. Missouri in the eighth inning found the offerings of Conroy easy and hit in two more runs. The Score was again tied, after the Aggies had batted in the eighth, a blow by Harter, who acted in the role of pinch-hitter, being the main factor.

MUNN
He never failed to catch them.

In the ninth inning, Conroy hit Denny, putting him on base. Two hits then gave the Missourians two runs. The Aggies were unable to come back in the home half of the ninth, and lost 7-5.

The next week Oklahoma came to Manhattan and lost her chances of winning a title when the Wildcats took two close games. Henry Karns pitched the first game, a 2-0 victory. Paul Vohs then repeated in the second game, with a 1 - 0 victory. Both games were exceedingly close and interesting and good, heady baseball was played by both teams.

A number of double plays by the Aggies were timely and aided in keeping down the Sooner score. A long hit by Rex Huey drove in the winning run in the last game.

The Aggies ended the season with a clear-cut victory over Kansas University, 2-0. It was the third defeat of the Kansas team by the Aggies during the season. The next day a heavy rain saved the Jayhawkers from what might have been a fourth defeat.

Although most of the regulars of the team were lost through graduation, Coach Corsaut was able to be optimistic about the success of the year 1925. With perhaps the best freshman team in the history of the school from which to fill the depleted varsity ranks, everything pointed to another successful year.

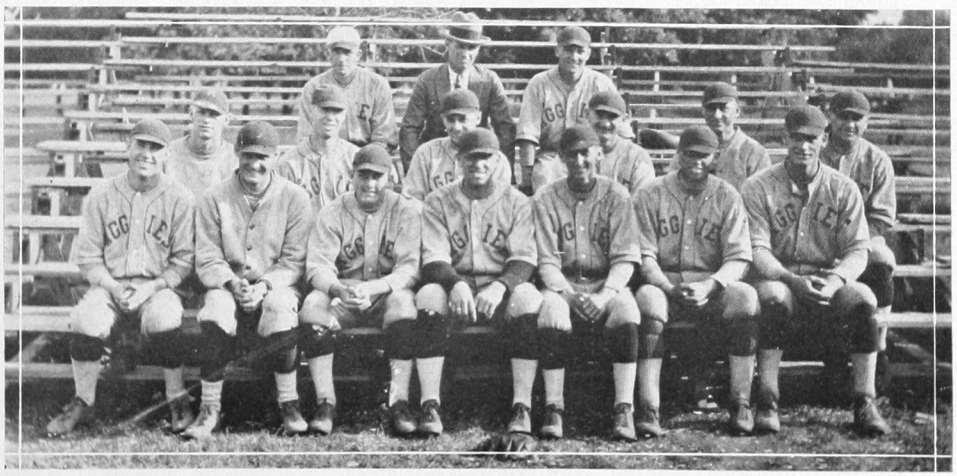

In addition to a good team, Aggie fans were promised a new field with the starting of the 1925 season. The new diamond is located west of the Engineering building and when fully seasoned will make an excellent playing field.

The greatest drawback to Valley baseball has been the fact that it has not paid for itself. With the sport proving a success financially it undoubtedly will attain the position among college athletics which it rightfully should hold.

The 1924 Baseball Squad

Cross-Country

DEFEATING Kansas University, Missouri, and Nebraska in dual meets and winning the Missouri Valley championship in the Missouri Valley meet, held at Des Moines were the achievements of the 1924 cross-country team.

In the first race of the season the Aggie Harriers met the Kansas University team at Manhattan on Dad's day. The race was an easy victory for the Aggies, 18-37.

The team next met Missouri University at Columbia. The course there was run over the golf links, which was an ocean wave affair, that made fast time impossible. Kimport and Sallee again, as in the race with Kansas, tied for first place. The score was 26-29.

In winning the Valley meet, the Wildcat team broke the string of 11 consecutive victories run up by Ames. In this meet eight teams—48 men—were entered. Of the first 10 men to finish, four were Aggies. Kimport, Sallee, Aikman, von Riesen, Rutherford, and Axtell finished second, third, seventh, ninth, seventeenth, and twenty-fifth, respectively.

The last meet of the season was with Nebraska at Manhattan on Homecoming Day. A record crowd saw five Aggies place among the first six men to finish. Kimport won first place in the fast time of 24 minutes and 37 seconds.

Cross-country running was introduced by Coach Bachman in 1920 and has developed strength as an inter-collegiate sport each year. This season a squad of about 50 men reported consistently. Next year the team will have an excellent chance to win the Valley championship again, as Captain von Riesen is the only man lost by graduation. Regulation sweaters, with the monogram "cKc" were awarded to the six men of the team and gold track shoes were given them by the Athletic Board in recognition of the ever-victorious season.

Minor Sports

Wrestling

CAPT. WALGREN

WRESTLING enjoyed a rather mediocre season during the past school year. Lack of adequate coaching and scholastic ineligibility prevented the team from making an outstanding showing. This is the third year that inter-collegiate wrestling has been in existence at K. S. A. C., but a team comparable to others in the Missouri Valley has not been developed as yet.

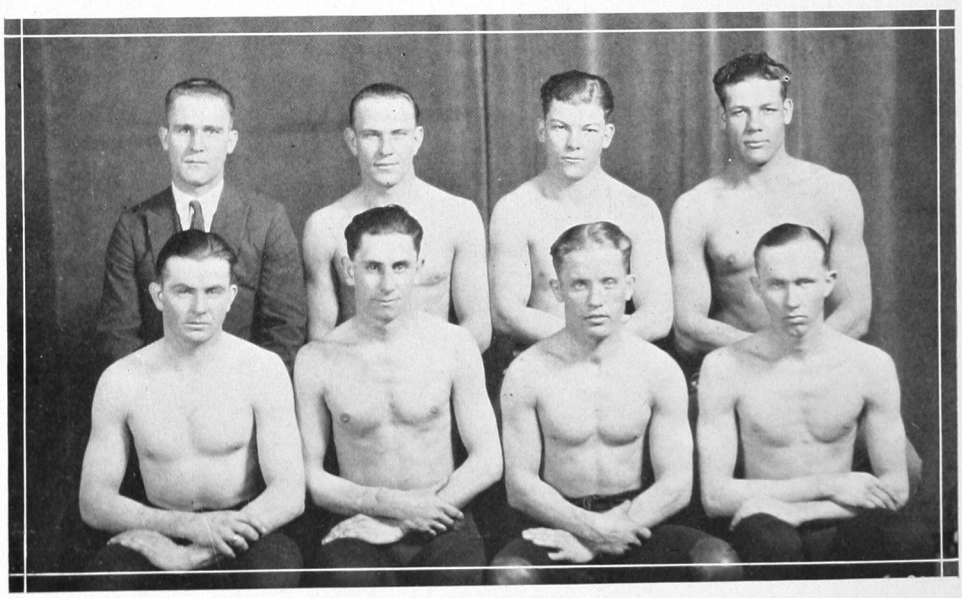

Only two men performed sufficiently well throughout the season to win letters. These two were Captain O. E. Walgren, featherweight, and Zurlinden Pearson, heavyweight.

Several matches were tentatively scheduled for the team, but only one dual meet with the University of Kansas and the Missouri Valley conference meet took place. Matches were proposed with the Colorado Aggies and with Denver University, but were not contested because there were not enough men in training who possessed sufficient ability to form a representative team.

In the dual meet with Kansas University one match was won by the Aggies and the remainder by the Jayhawkers. Z. Pearson won a decision over the University grappler and annexed the Wildcats' lone point. The other matches were close, however, and were lost in several cases through inexperience.

Walgren, Hinz, Pearson and Frazier were scheduled to compete in the Missouri Valley meet at Lincoln, Neb., but Pearson was unable to wrestle. He sustained a bad cut over his left eye in a boxing match on the night preceding the Valley meet and did not make the trip. Frazier wrested in a special class, 108 pounds.

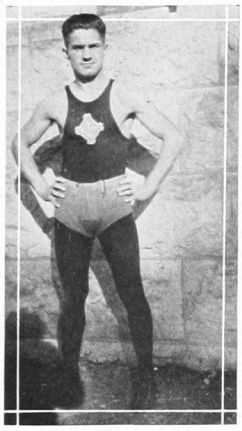

Captain Walgren was the only man to place at Lincoln. He won third place in the 115-pound class.

Top row—KNOTH, HINDS, DAVIES, PEARSON
Bottom row—FAULCONER, SCHOOP, WALGREN, FRAZIER

Boxing

ALTHOUGH boxing as a minor sport was instituted at K. S. A. C. only this year, its unusual popularity with the student body and townspeople will undoubtedly make it the premier minor sport in the future. Only one contest, that with the University of Kansas, was held in Manhattan, but the bouts attracted a crowd of almost 2,000 persons.

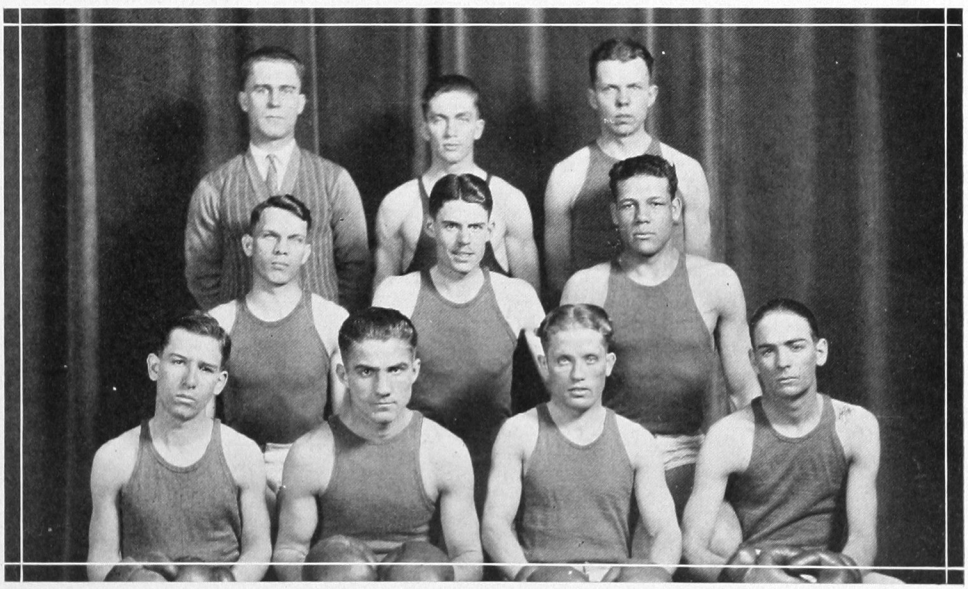

CAPT. HOELZEL

The Wildcats engaged in three dual meets during the progress of the season. They were defeated by Ames by a 6 to 1 score, they lost to K. U. at Lawrence by the close margin of a 4 to 3 count, and then in the final meet of the season conquered the Jayhawkers by the same score the University battlers had acquired in the previous bout.

Five men won at least one bout in one of the three contests and were awarded letters. They are Captain C. F. Hoelzel, 145 pounds; O. E. Walgren, 115 pounds; J. A. Stewart, 125 pounds; F. T. Rose, 135 pounds, and Zurlinden Pearson, heavyweight. Other men who boxed in meets but who did not win letters were: H. E. Miller, 135 pounds; H. Purcell, 140 pounds; S. Farrell, 158 pounds; S. Tombaugh, 175 pounds, and L. S. Guthrie, 175 pounds.

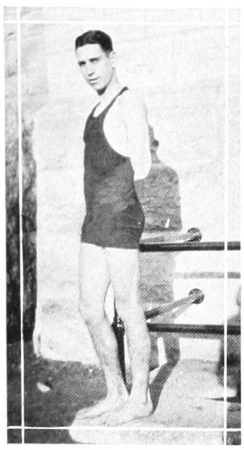

The most outstanding performer on the team was Zurlinden Pearson. Pearson won his matches in all three meets through the knockout route.

The prospects for next year show the team to be almost of championship caliber. All men who were awarded letters will be able to compete at least one more season.

Second row—ROSE, PURCELL, PEARSON
Third row—STEWART, HOELZEL, WALGREN, MILLER

Swimming

CAPT. MILLER

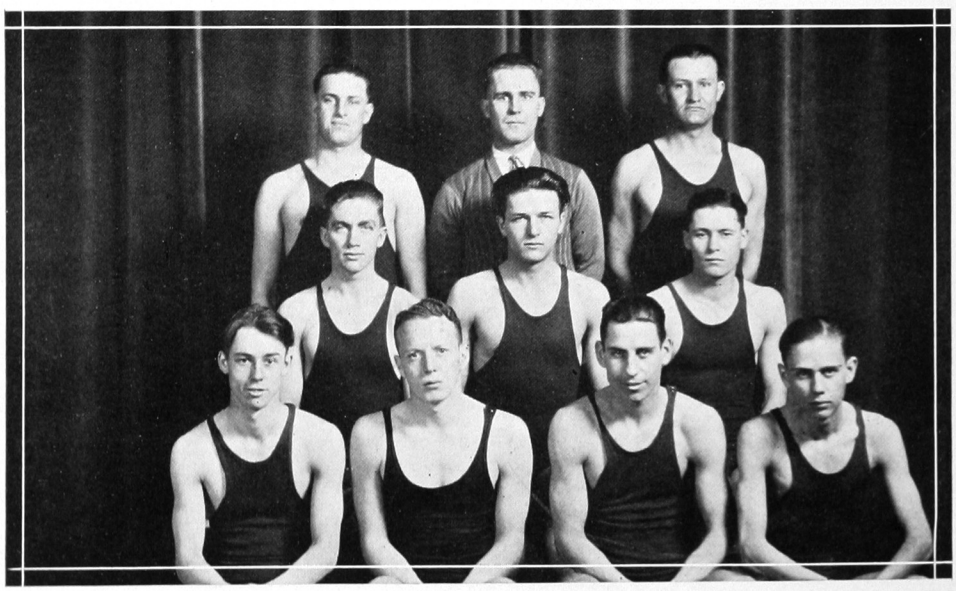

AQUATIC sports at K. S. A. C. during the past winter were less successful than they have been for several years. This failure to make an outstanding record was due in part to the graduation last spring of three of the best swimmers in the Missouri Valley, Burton Colburn, Joe Mackay and "Mickey" Magill.

The swimmers engaged in two dual meets and the Valley conference meet. They tied the Huskers, 34-34, were overwhelmed by Washington University, 57-11, and took fourth place in the Valley meet. In the Washington contest the St. Louis swimmers broke every Missouri Valley record in all events except one, this fact indicating an exceptional team at Washington rather than a poor team at K. S. A. C.

The dual meet with Nebraska was very close, all the events being won by small margins. Although the score was tied in points, the meet was awarded to Nebraska because the Huskers annexed first place in the relay.

The relay team, made up of L. C. Miller, P. R. Carter, J. V. Eastwood and A. Lippincott, won fourth place in the Valley meet and Miller placed fourth in the backstroke. Miller's time of two minutes ten seconds was three seconds faster than the former record. The winner's time was two minutes seven seconds.

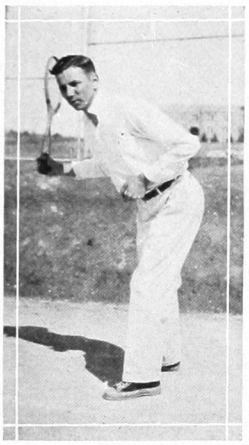

Five men performed sufficiently well to win a minor sport letter in swimming. These were Captain L. C. Miller, fancy diving, backstroke and relay; P. R. Carter, fancy diving and relay; J. V. Eastwood, backstroke and relay; A. Lippincot, relay, 40 and 100-yard free style, and T. Long, plunge.

Top row—ULRIG, KNOTH, SCHEMM
Second row—FARRELL, LONG, CARTER
Third row—EASTWOOD, LIPPINCOTT, MILLER, OLMSTEAD

Tennis

BECAUSE of its comparative newness as an intercollegiate sport at K. S. A. C., tennis fared very poorly last spring. Several matches were scheduled and played although none were won. The lack of players who could hold their own with those of other Missouri Valley schools was not due to a scarcity of ability to to insufficient training facilities, a deficiency which has been remedied this year.

CAPT. WANN

Five men played for the Wildcats in the various matches throughout the season. The leading players were Captain Wann and William Rankin. The other players were F. C. Healea, Wallace Goodell and E. Miller.

Matches were played with Missouri, Baker, Oklahoma and Kansas. The first match of the season against the Tigers in Manhattan was won by the invaders by decisive scores. The singles matches were both won by M. U. players. These two players in the doubles also conquered the Aggies.

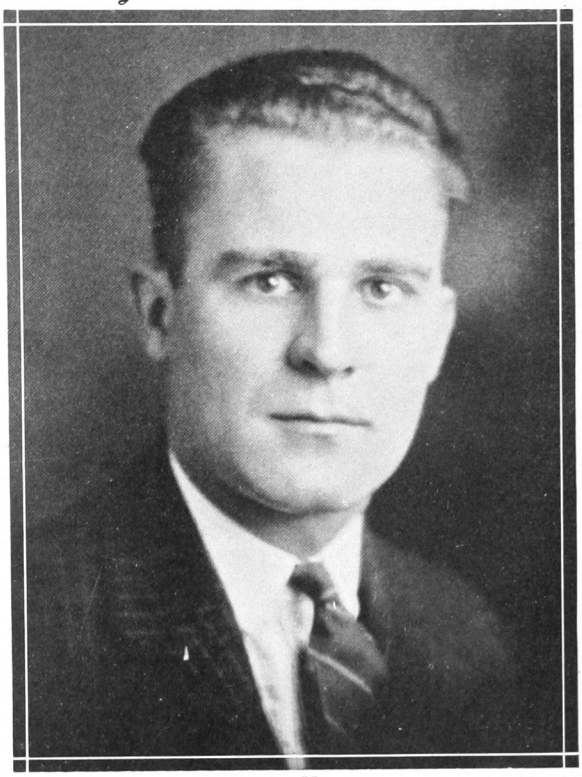

The next games were played with Baker. The Methodists made a clean sweep in both singles and doubles.

Oklahoma was the next school to keep the Aggies in the lost column. Four singles matches were played, all of which went to the visitors. The Southerners easily annexed victory in the doubles match.

The University of Kansas was encountered twice during the progress of the season, once at Manhattan and once at Lawrence. In both matches, however, the Jayhawkers easily annexed the long ends of the scores. The singles in the first contest were won by Kansas, 6-1, 6-2, and 6-4, 6-3. The doubles were won by the same men, teamed together, by a 6-1, 6-2 count. The singles and doubles in the second contest were won by the Kansas players by almost idential scores.

Physical Education

E. A. Knoth

Head of Physical Education and Coach of Minor Sports

INCREASED interest was established in the Department of Physical Education by allowing all the freshmen and sophomores to choose one of several branches of training given by the department. Students now have the choice of entering classes in boxing, wrestling, tumbling, floor work, beginning swimming, advanced swimming, and Red Cross. Because the student has the choice of physical education he wishes, attendance in classes has greatly increased and a higher grade of work is being put out by the department. From the boxing, wrestling, and swimming classes, men usually are developed who later represent the college in minor sports against Missouri Valley schools.

Intramural athletics, which in the past few years have been handled by Prof. E. A. Knoth, have become exceedingly popular. The idea of intramural athletics is to provide some form of sport and exercise for the majority of students who in no other way can take advantage of the athletic equipment of the college. This year in addition to basketball, tennis, swimming, indoor track, cross-country, baseball, and handball, three new sports, bicycle racing, horseshoe pitching, and basketball free-throwing were added to the list of intramural sports.

A large silver cup is offered to the organization who at the end of the year has made the most points in the various branches of athletics. The cup becomes the permanent property of the organization winning it three years.

Intramural sweaters with a small "K" enclosed in a circle are awarded to the ten individuals who have made the most points in the various events.

Gold medals are offered the winners of first places in swimming, boxing, wrestling, track, and other sports, and to members of teams who win championships in baseball, basketball, handball, and tennis.

"K" women are those who have won the required number of points for an Old English "K" sweater. This "K" means as much in women's athletics as does the block "K" in men's athletics. The white sweater, upon which the letter is worn, is presented by the W. A. A. although the girl pays one-half the cost.

A girl can win only one "K" sweater, although she may add to her sweater a chevron for each additional 200 points and a star for an additional 800 points. The standard of points first set was 800, but now has been raised to 1200, beginning the fall of 1925, having increased the requirement by 100 points each year since 1923. The candidate must also swim once around the girls' pool, which measures about 150 feet. This increase in points, of course, will mean that possibly there will be fewer "K" sweaters awarded, but the calibre of girl behind the "K" will be raised. Only a "K" woman is eligible to the office of president of W. A. A.

The girls who wear the "K" sweaters are the leaders of athletics at this college. They stand for good sportsmanship, leadership, constructive co-operation and creative interest in gymnasium work, promoting high efficiency in physical education for women.

Women's Athletics

PHYSICAL education is more and more becoming an essential and interesting activity for the women students of K. S. A. C. We wish to express our thanks to Dean Willard, who five years ago made physical education compulsory for women. It may be that we groan about having to take it, but after all, the majority of the nine hundred and some girls taking physical education enjoy it.

Where do we put nine hundred and some girls? We have one fair-sized gymnasium, a swimming pool and a medium-sized dressing room. Classes are held in all three places as well as outdoors and in the "K" room. We hope it doesn't disturb the men's gym classes when we run down the track in our dancing costumes to the "K" room.

Every year before entering the classes each girl must have her heart and lungs examined. If she is a freshman or a new student she has a thorough physical examination. If she has any physical defects, abnormalities, or other weaknesses, she is enrolled in a corrective gymnasium class. There she is given individual exercises for her particular weakness.

The women who have patiently and carefully coached athletics are:

Miss Ruth Morris, University of Wisconsin, head of the department, who coaches hockey and archery, and instructs in clog dancing.

Miss Myra Wade, Oberlin College, who has charge of the corrective gym work and interpretive dancing. She also coaches tennis and baseball.

Miss Geneva Watson, University of Chicago, who is the best basketball coach we have ever had, also coaches track and tennis. It might be said that character dancing is her hobby and she has interested many girls in that line.

Miss Laureda Thompson, student assistant, who devotes her time to the sports with special emphasis on her Red Cross Life-Saving Class.

There are many subjects offered so that each girl may choose the sport she likes best. Besides the regular gym work of marching tactics and floor work, there is the game of hockey. It may seem like shinny to some of those who watch, and we admit that on that field of check holes and long grass it often isn't even good shinny, but it is a good game and is one sport which gives more girls an opportunity to take part.

Then, too, there is basketball, played with six players on the three-court plan. Due to previous high school experience, the girls make a better showing in playing basketball than in any other sport, and lots of keen competition develops for places on the teams.

And swimming, the favorite sport formerly monopolized by the boys, is popularized by the girls with the result that the swimming classes are always full. An interesting class in Red Cross Life-Saving was introduced this year and has progressed nicely. There are two other series of tests for which a girl may compete—Red Cap and Blue Cap—varying respectively in difficulty and endurance. The girls' swimming meet is handicapped for enthusiasm due to the lack of facilities for handling spectators, but nevertheless it is the important event in the swimming year.

In the spring, baseball classes are crowded. Some of us can pitch quite as well as the boys and can even knock three-baggers! This again offers an opportunity for many contestants.

It is always amusing to have spectators come down to the archery field and stand around with that "Let me show you how to do it" air. When given the chance, they find that even though the target seems as big as a barrel, it isn't so easy to hit the bull's-eye after all. But archery is a dandy sport and we are getting in practice for leap year in 1928.

Track is immense fun, though with the meagre improvised facilities we can not expect to set many records, but hurdles, dashes, javelin throwing, high jump and broad jump are given due attention.

This year the tennis classes have been open only to the best players because of the few available courts and therefore there can not be any beginning or intermediate classes.

The dancing classes are not to be forgotten. There are some folks who can best express their abundance of energy by interpreting music in movements, in other words, dancing to their own imaginations. This is interpretive dancing. Character dancing and clogging are also very popular.

This year a new enterprise was launched. It is the first time there has been Women's Intra-Mural competition. An Intra-Mural volley ball tournament proved a success, the Alpha Theta Chi sorority claiming the silver loving cup presented by the W. A. A. to the victors. This cup becomes the permanent property of the organization winning it three years in succession.

It is through the earnest efforts of our instructors that we hope to have a regular accredited four-year course in Physical Education at this college beginning the fall of 1925. We would like to have rifle teams, fencing, horseback riding, soccer, and the educational methods of teaching physical education, anatomy, and kinesiology. A women's field for hockey, baseball, track, archery, and other sports would complete a perfect physical education course.

But considering our cramped quarters and inadequate facilities, we are proud of our showing.

In order to give the hockey coach a chance to get a better line on the players so that she could the more easily decide who to place on the varsity hockey team, and also make the selection of the class teams easier, the system of having preliminary practices preceding any inter-class games was used again. The Seniors and Sophomores practiced on Monday and Wednesday nights and the Juniors and Freshmen on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

My dear Sir:

I am returning herewith the photographs you sent me, and enjoyed looking at them and selecting those I thought the best. I might add that I judged them photographically, and regret it if I have hurt the feelings of any of the young ladies. Not knowing their colorings, and good points, I could only judge from a flat picture.

The young lady I marked as number one, I consider really very beautiful - and a good type.

Thanking you for the privilege you gave me, I am

Purple Masque

THE ART of dramatization in the college has made a rapid advance in the past decade. This has been due mainly to the increase in the enrollment in the school and the interest which the students show for dramatic work. The Purple Masque fraternity, organized in December, 1915, from the K. S. A. C. dramatic club, is the nucleus around which all stage events center. Previous to the establishment of the organization, the literary societies had carried on the drama until the founding of Purple Masque under the direction of Prof. James G. Emerson, then head of the public speaking department.

Every year the fraternity produces two major plays besides a series of the one-act variety. Numerous dramatic sketches, stunts and plays for extension work are sponsored by Purple Masque. On October 24, three one-act plays were presented at the college auditorium for the purpose of choosing new members for the organization. The casts for the plays were: "For All Time," Perry Thomas, Birdie Von Trebra, Rebecca Thacher and Helen Vanquist; "Questioning Fate," Lynn Fayman, James Price and Agatha Tyler; "The Ghost of Jerry Bundler," Arthur Maxwell, Kingsley Given, Stanley Morse, Herman Higgins, Jean Conklin, Ralph Clark and Floyd Strong.

On December 1-5, the fall play, "The First Year," by Frank Craven, was taken on the annual road tour and presented at Concordia, Clay Center, Junction City, McPherson and Herington, respectively. The road trips have been found to be not only a success in giving the casts real stage experience but also to serve as an advertising medium for the college. Owing to an accident to Jack Kennedy, the male lead, "The First Year" was not presented in Manhattan until Janu ary 30, where it played before a packed house.

Members of the cast were: Jack Kennedy, in the character of Thomas Tucker; Rebecca Thacher, Grace Livingston; Fred Voiland, Mr. Livingston; Lillian Kammeyer, Mrs. Livingston; Harold Sappenfield, Dick Loring; James Lansing, Doctor Anderson; Arthur Maxwell, Mr. Barstow; Betty McCoin, Mrs. Barstow, and Lois Grasty, Hattie. The players were accompanied on their play trip by Prof. Earl G. MacDonald, director; Melville S. Thompson, business manager, and Mrs. Eusebia M. Thompson, chaperone.

The Purple Masque players represented K. S. A. C. at the annual national one-act play tournament held in conjunction with the convention of Teachers of Public Speech at Evanston, Illinois, December 29, 30, and 31, where they presented "Fancy Free," by Stanley Houghton. The cast chosen for this occasion was: Agatha Tyler, in the part of Fancy; Rebecca Thacher, Delia; James Price, Alfred, and Kingsley Given as Ethelbert.

The play selected for production by the Masque during Festival Week was "Captain Applejack." If the appreciation shown by the audience is an indication, Captain Applejack concluded one of the most successful seasons the Purple Masque has experienced.

Inter-Collegiate Debate

K. S. A. C. completed this year the most extensive debate schedule ever entered upon by men and women teams at thiss chool. Discussions were limited in freshman and women's debates to the Pi Kappa Delta question on the Supreme Court. The varsity men also used the Japanese question on their trip to the west coast.

Aggie teams have participated in thirty debates this year. Of this number, 19 were decision contests and we won eight. The debates on the women's trip were with Baker, Ottawa, Missouri Wesleyan, Penn College, Simpson, Morningside and Cotner. The women as members of the Kansas Women's Debate League also met Emporia, Bethany and Washburn. A two-woman team met Oregon Agricultural College and a single-member team debated in Washburn chapel.

The men's debates in the Missouri Valley were with Drake University, University of South Dakota, University of Oklahoma and the University of Kansas. The freshman men's team debated Hays Normal, University of Colorado and Bethany College. On the west coast trip the varsity men met Colorado Agricultural College, University of Wyoming, Montana Agricultural College, University of Montana, University of Washington, Oregon Agricultural College, Leland Stanford University, University of Southern California, University of Arizona and the University of Texas.

There is a possibility that next year the men's team will make a trip to eastern and southern schools.

Prof. H. B. Summers has done all of the coaching this year. He had unusual success with the women's team, winning seven out of nine contests. The men's team won the debate with the University of Kansas, which was the first contest between the two schools. They also defeated the University of Washington while on the trip.

One of the most interesting contests of the year was the chapel debate between the men's team from Oregon Agricultural College and a woman's team from K. S. A. C. The negative, upheld by Kansas, won the vote of the critic judge.

There also will be a contest at the Pi Kappa Delta division meeting at Emporia at which women from K. S. A. C. will debate.

This year has seen the development and extension of two new features of debating. Critic judges instead of the three-judge system have been widely used and extemporaneous debate has in a large measure supplanted the memorized speech.

Inter-Society Council

INTER-SOCIETY COUNCIL is composed of a group of literary society members, there being a Junior and a Senior representative from each of the eight literary societies on the hill.

This council was organized in 1918 by Dr. MacArthur, who felt that there was a need for some organization to establish and maintain co-operation between the literary societies. Thus, through its different chairmen, it endeavors to uphold this standard throughout the year.

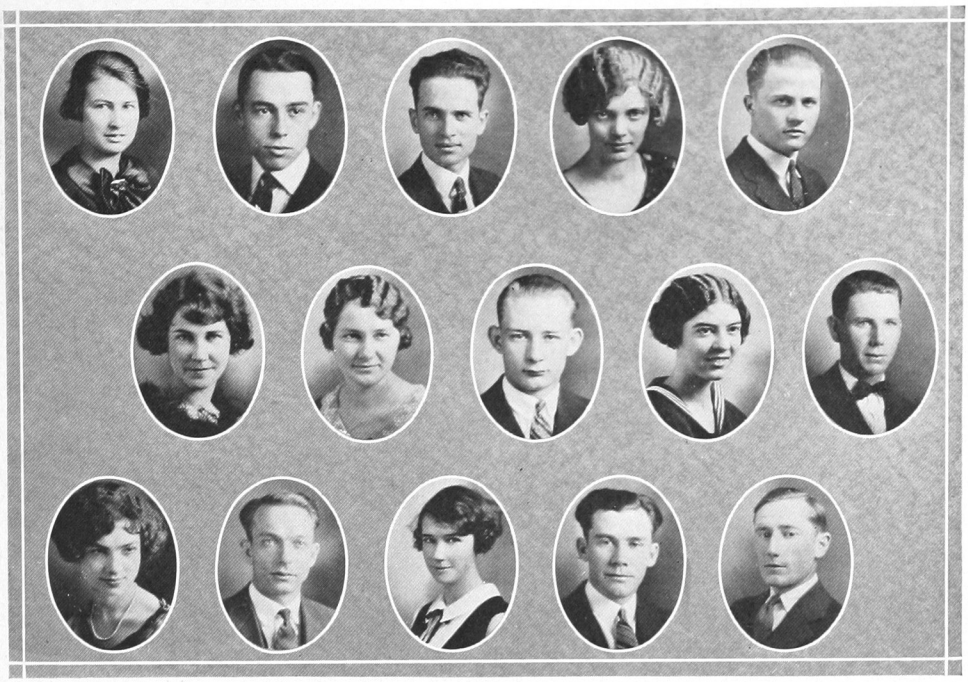

In the fall a series of debates were held under the direction of the debate chairman. The result was that the Alpha Beta literary society won the cup offered to the society winning the final debate.

The twenty-fifth oratorical contest was held this year on March 7. Mr. Frank Morrison, representing the Athenian literary society, won first place. Second place was awarded to Geraldine Reboul, Ionian, and third place to Alvin Ritts, Webster.

The Athenians also were awarded the loving cup for having the highest number of points during the school year of 1923-'24. This point system is maintained by the council in order to stimulate interest and promote a friendly rivalry between the various societies. A certain number of points are given for the activities, such as Glee Club, Purple Masque, Zeta Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Delta, etc., that are represented in the society. The other points are based on scholastic standing, attendance, participation in debate, and other activities within the society. The organization obtaining the highest number of points receives the cup.

On March 28 "Thank You" was given as the annual inter-society play, one of the most important activities of the literary societies. The cast was composed entirely of members from the different literary societies who were chosen from those that participated in the try-outs. These try-outs were held under the supervision of the play chairman with the help of the public speaking department. The proceeds from this play are used to defray the expenses for the Oratorical contest and other activities. Thus the council is a self-supporting organization.

History

The Alpha Beta Literary Society was organized October 17, 1868, and in December, 1870, a charter was obtained for ten years. At the expiration of the first charter, another one was obtained for a period of ninety-nine years. The society is a member of the "Inter-Society Oratorical Association" and the "Debating Council."

The society has met at the following places: Old building on College Hill; old chapel in the Armory building; north corridor of Anderson hall; room in south wing of Anderson hall; Society hall in the basement of Fairchild hall, and in the present location in the northeast corner, third floor of Nichol's Gymnasium. In 1924 the Alpha Beta and the Franklin Literary Societies began to hold meetings in the same room and this continues at the present time.

Inter-Collegiate Oratory

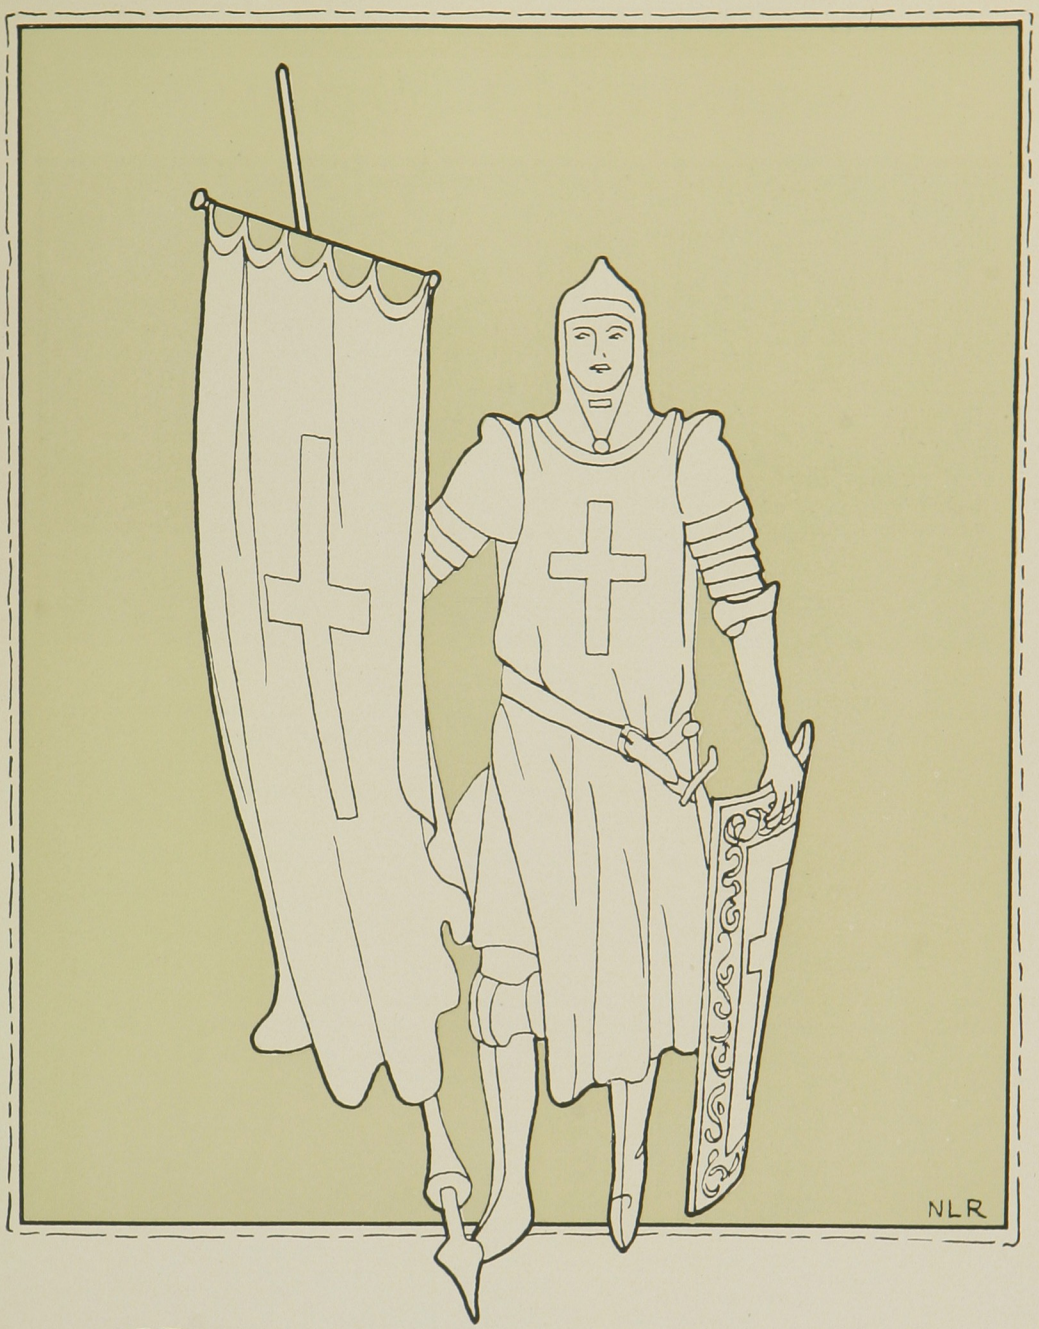

GIVEN

K. S. A. C. participated this year in one inter-collegiate oratorical for women. Miss Geraldine Reboul was our representative.

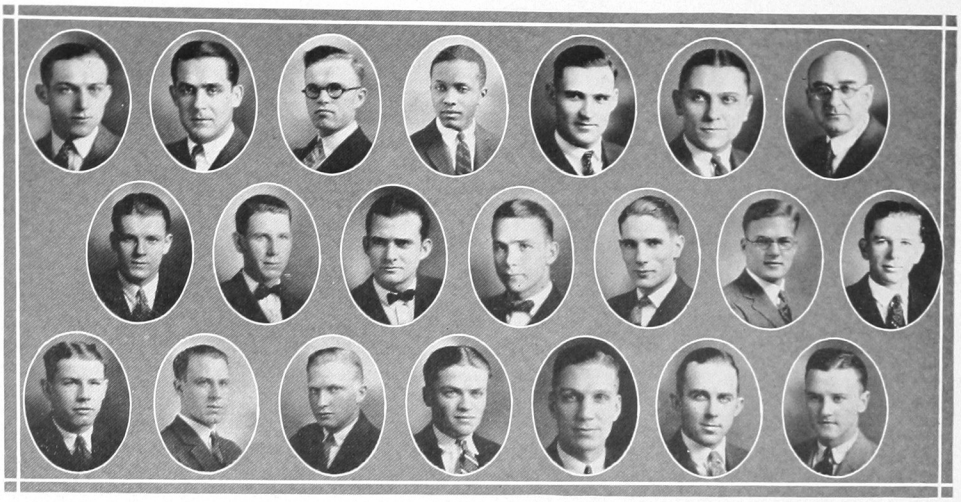

The men had three contests. G. W. Given won second place in the Missouri Valley oratorical at St. Louis. The contest has been held at Washington University for the past several years, and during that time the Aggies have made the best average of any school in the Valley.

Robert Hedberg won the dual contest with Montana Agricultural College. He also participated in the West Coast Pi Kappa Delta convention contest and won first place in oratory and first in extempore speaking. In an earlier extempore contest with Washburn, Kansas State Teachers' College and the University of Kansas, he placed second.

Alpha Chapter was organized at the University of Illinois in 1911 by Rev. S. E. Fisher. In 1913 a group of girls, under the leadership of Rev. J. David Arnold, organized a Bethany Circle at. K. S. A. C. The next year Bethany Circle became a national organization with this chapter as Beta Chapter. Three other chapters have been added. They are located at the Universities of Michigan, Iowa and Kansas. The threefold purposes of Bethany Circle are: "To establish and maintain a friendly relationship among the student girls of Christian Church preference; to make the work of Bethany Circle a real means of Christian influence among the girls by arousing an interest in the church and its various departments; to maintain as individuals a high ideal of scholarship, to strive for a broad, sympathetic interest in human activities and to develop a rich and gracious personality."

The Kappa Phi was organized at the University of Kansas in 1916 to form a closer association among our Methodist women who are the students in the State and independent universities; to make our work among student women of our denomination more effective and sufficient; to maintain a more serviceable organization to take care of our incoming freshmen each year, and to provide in a college woman's way religious training and wholesome social life, that we may be stronger, more efficient women of the church of Tomorrow.

There are now fourteen active chapters.

16. Beautiful inscription placed upon monument to Jayhawk jinx when Aggie debaters defeat K. U. by unanimous decision.

18. Best saved for the last—Flonzaley string quartet finishes Artist series.

Wreath laid on jinx grave as boxers lay out K. U.

21. Flo's choice made known. Exaltation—also gnashing of teeth.

27. "Thank You," presented by Intersociety cast, brings laughs from start to finish.

APRIL 17. Women, women everywhere. Home Ecs. celebrate golden jubilee. Christen building Calvin Hall in honor of Henrietta Willard Calvin.

Juniors and seniors show superiority with 10:00 to 1:30 prom.

Aggies defeat Missouri in first Valley baseball contest, 5-3.

18. Freshmen and sophomores must be satisfied with 8:30 to 11:30 hop.

APRIL 28-MAY 2. Week devoted to music and drama. And many came from afar off to witness and to hear the wondrous events.

MAY —. Seniors sneak to Junction City and spend the day dancing. Put it all over underclassmen and previous senior sneak days.

9. Shekels from gullible Aggies fall into coffers of Ags at fifth annual Fair. Great time had by all, including the Ags.

MAY —. Herds of girls in next to nothing gallop over the green to crown the Queen of May.

MAY —. Seniors take off class day of 50 years ago and get away big. Orations prove very soothing and restful.

MAY —. Baccalaureate. Flocks of seniors flop about campus in ungainly gowns.

MAY —. More flopping in gowns as seniors go to the slaughter. All that is left of college career is curling sheepskin.

The Wildcat's Claws

Don Motter, the boy wonder, hit the hill with a bang this year. His military air was further heightened by long sideburns and deep blue trousers, said trousers cunningly striped with yellow. Don evidently was a corporal or something at Fairmount.

Life is made bearable for the girls because of the existence in our midst of Cecil McCormick, Jack Eakin and Ky Blount. Cecil and Jack, who give the habitues of Johnnie's a treat with their exhibitions of the modern dances, Ky, the proud, disdainful man about town.

Wall really doesn't deserve the name "Dissipation." She is on the hill to gain an education.

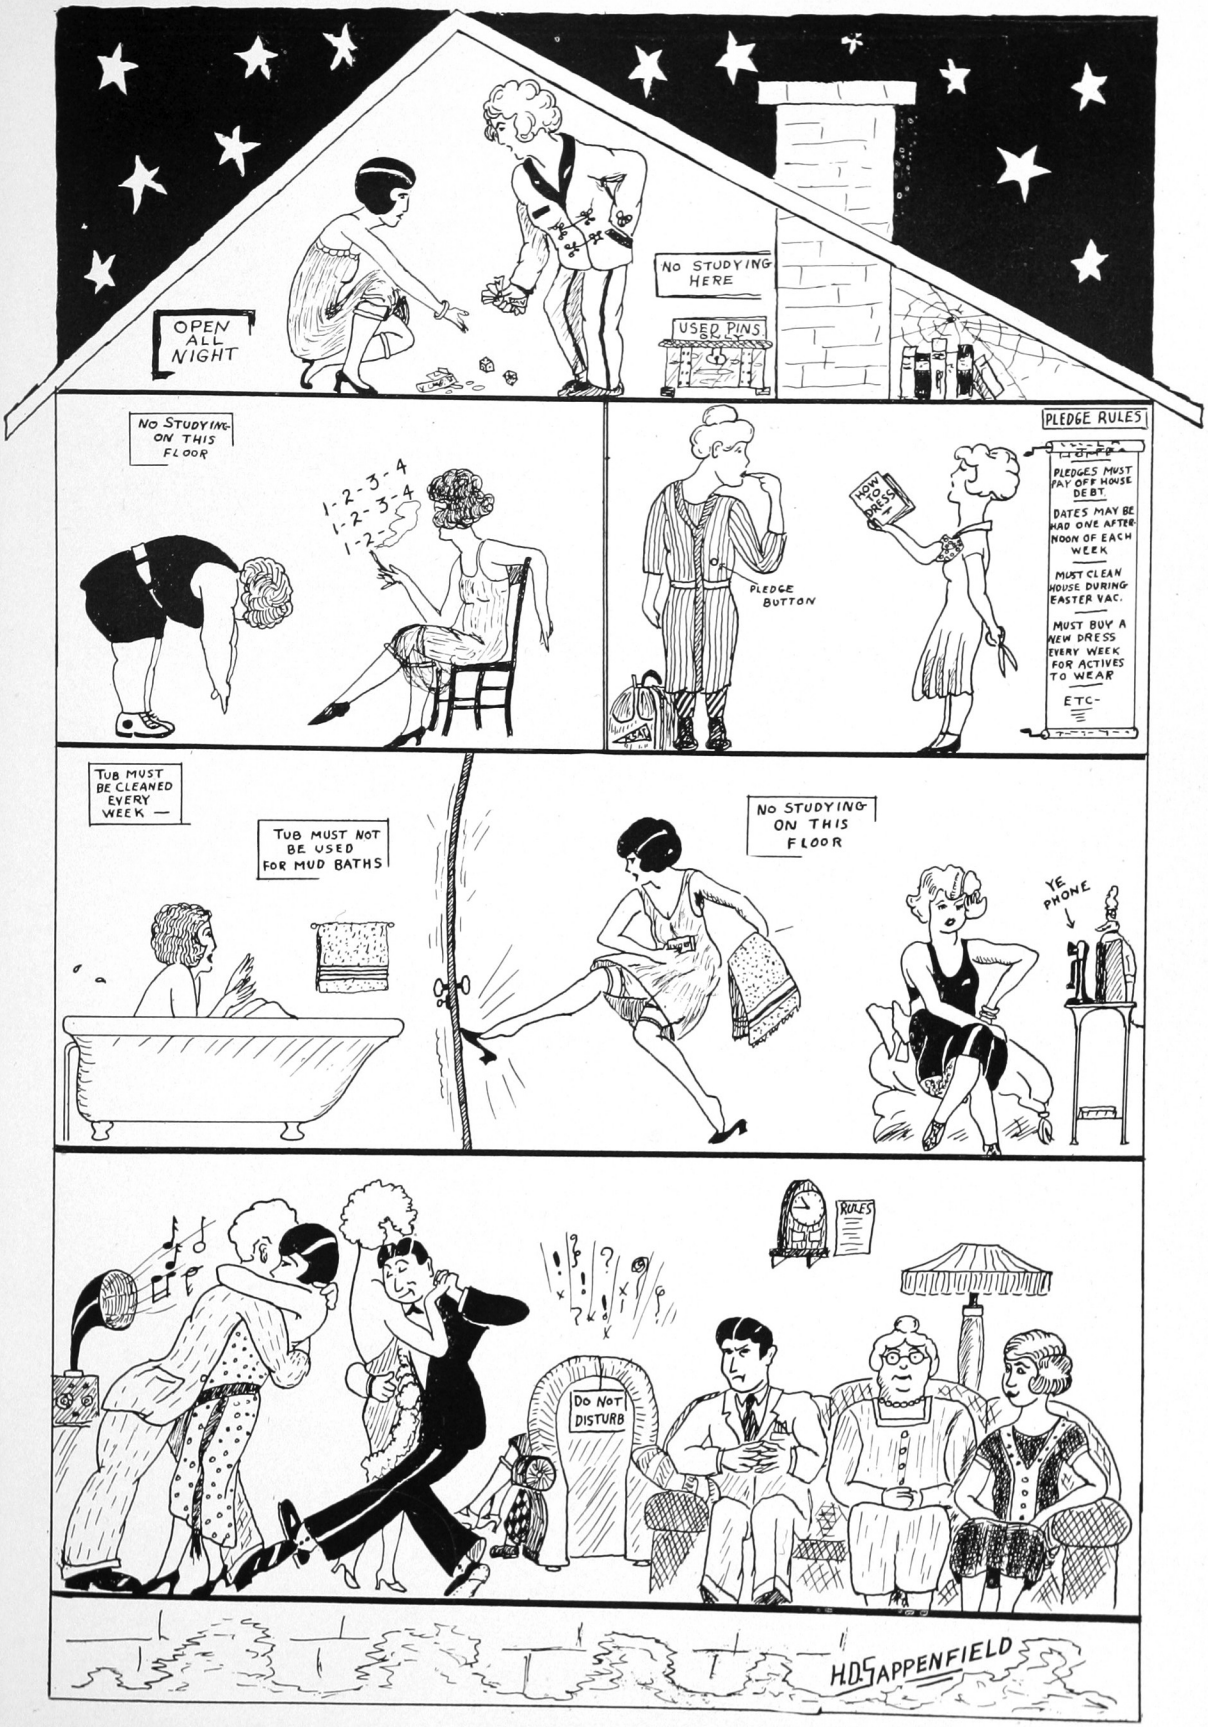

Gone but not forgotten is Curtis Watts. Her nickname was "Cutie." She was said to have a temper—even at that she could still rate an occasional date with some of the younger boys on the hill.

When mention is made of moustaches, the picture is immediately called up of Peter Piper, whose beautiful lip adornment is his pride and joy. Incidentally, Peter is a man of the great out-of-doors, open-throated woolen shirts being just another one of his little specialties.

Blanche Hirt must have neglected her preparatory work at Fairmount. It was all a mistake about her passing two hours here the first semester—it was really three.

The only rival to Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen is to be found in the person of Johnny Hale. Johnny doesn't frequent the links so very much, but he leads all the boys in his dandy golf suit.

Jean Frances Middleton—it's a sign of the elite to have three names—was back on the hill this year. Jean is very popular with the boys. Her car? Oh, yes, its a Packard.

H.D. SAPPENFIELD

The pride and joy of the journalism department—Harold Sappenfield—that's Sap's idea of himself. He has a clever nickname.

Edith Holsinger is in the thick of the social whirl, yet she looks fit and sound. Guess some of these sororities have good food.

Manual Valdez, the earnest student from the land of chili, wine and black-eyed senoritas, has been a much subdued young man during the past year. Rumor has it that Manual had to sign pledges, oaths and promises in order to remain an undergraduate at K. S. A. C. He wasn't in danger of promotion either.

The only living rival of Arthur Murray has been found on our own campus in the person of G. S. Wheeler, dancing instructor extraordinary. Wheeler doesn't possess a Ted Shawn physique, but his nimbleness on foot has won him a place in the heart of more than one fair co-ed on the hill.

Maxine Ransom has taken journalism so long that she is a past master at that Spanish game we all know so well. She and Qui did just love to joke each other.

We wonder if Johnny Costello and Eddie Durham ever got that sneak date fixed up at the Kappa house. Of course, Rushton Cortelyou had a car, and that helped some.

The thing that is worrying everyone now is: Will Ralph Blackledge get back to school next fall and save Aggie rooting from utter destruction?

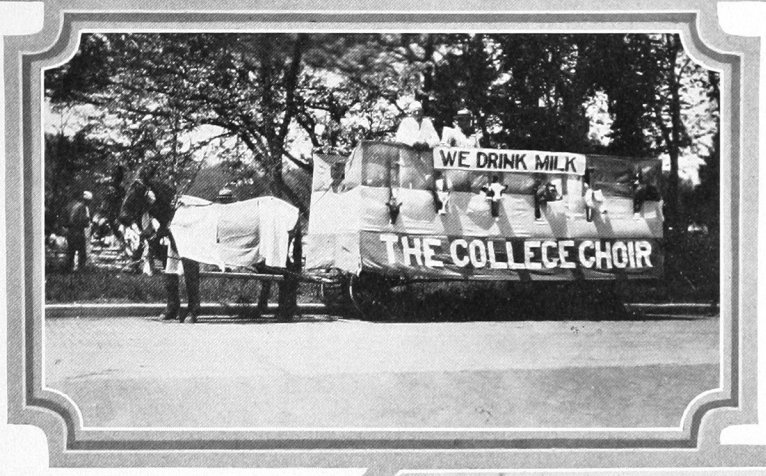

It has been rumored that Harold Souders was the author of the artwork in front of Calvin hall at the time of its dedication. Anyway, Harold is an architect of no mean ability.

We believe that Swede Lutz held out on us about his engagement for at least a month. The manner in which he was attempting to swim in the fountain at the Scarab party indicated that something unusual was taking place.

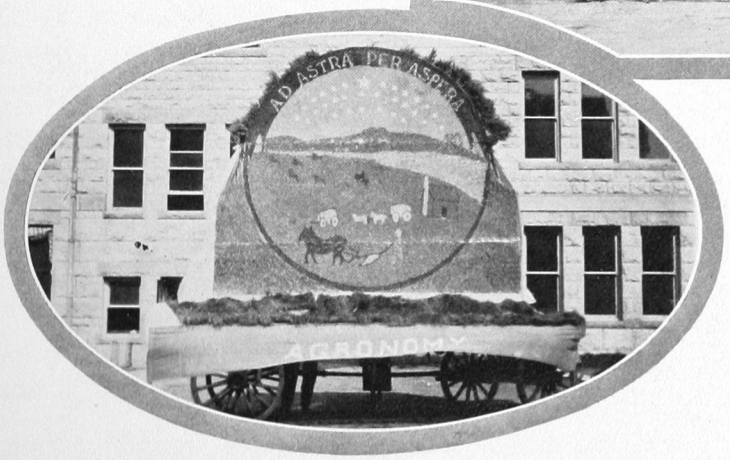

And then there's Grace Weyer, slightly bored with life as it is. Grace is no longer enrolled in journalism.

THE AG FAIR—The day when the Ags reign supreme on the campus. Everyone enjoys the parade, comments on the Ferris wheel and the scenic railway and eats candy while he watches the Follies.

Page 369

A careless freshman is reminded of the importance of a purple cap.

The R. O. T. C. unit turn out in a body to assist with the rooting

The cheer leaders ready for action.

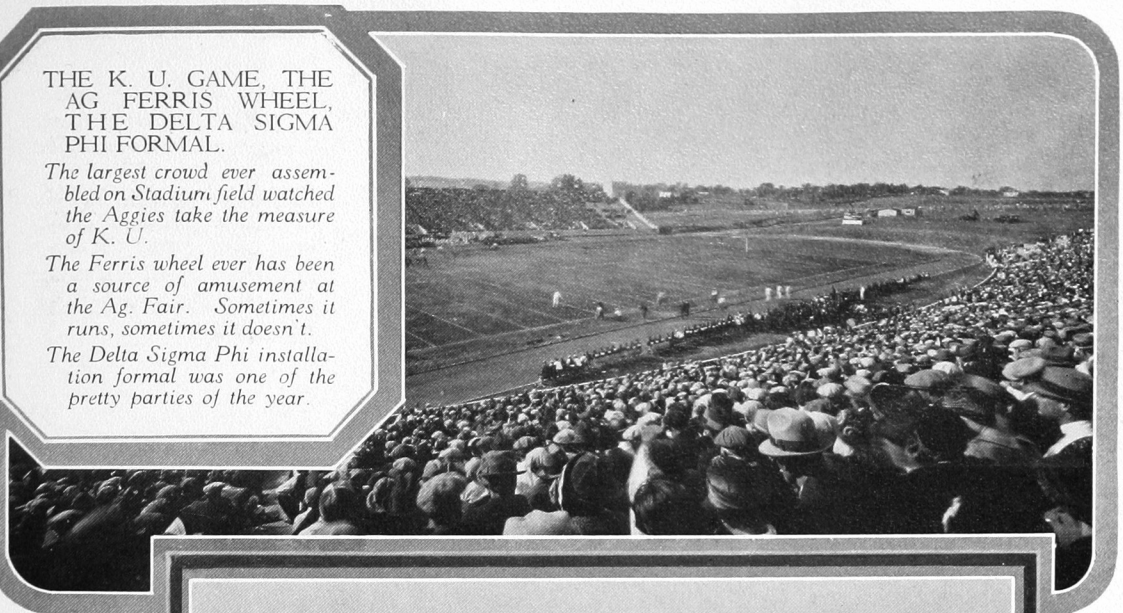

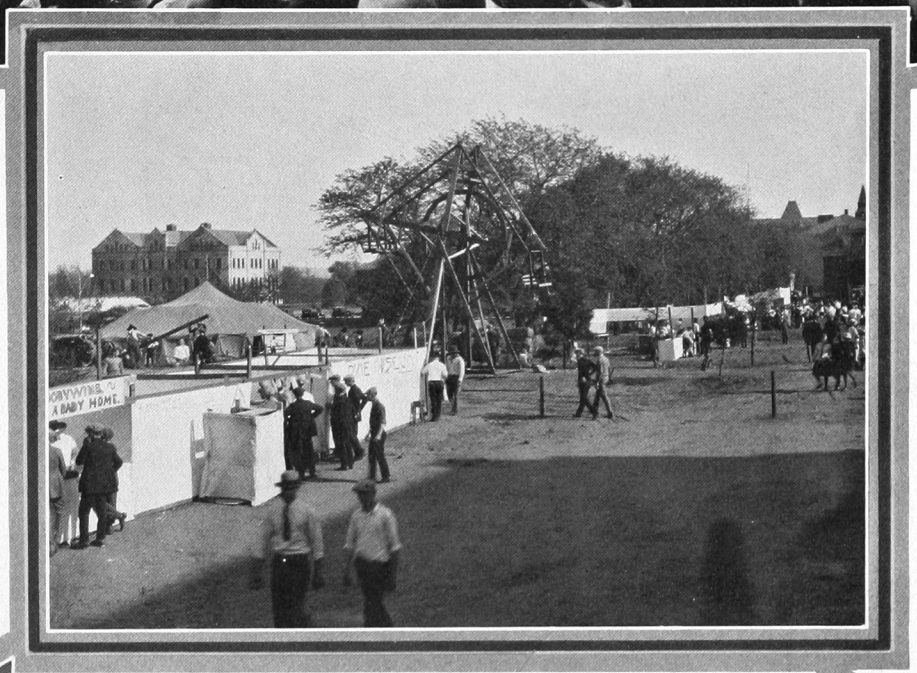

THE K. U. GAME, THE AG FERRIS WHEEL, THE DELTA SIGMA PHI FORMAL.

The largest crowd ever assembled on Stadium field watched the Aggies take the measure of K. U.

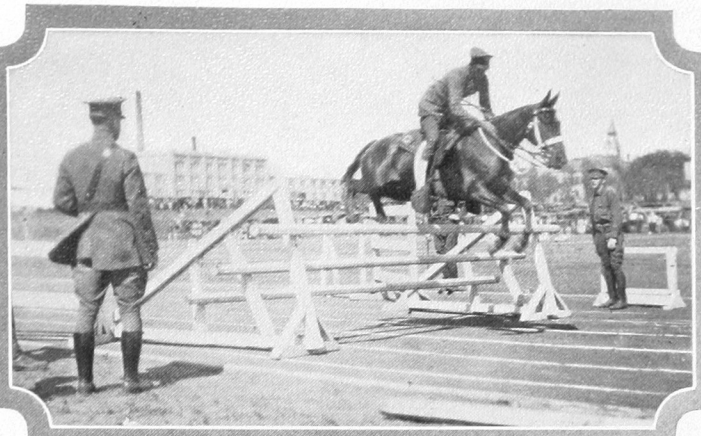

The Ferris wheel ever has been a source of amusement at the Ag. Fair. Sometimes it runs, sometimes it doesn't.

The Delta Sigma Phi installation formal was one of the pretty parties of the year.

FIELD DAY—The big day of the spring semester for Aggie students and people of the state. The R. O. T. C. unit, together with the cavalry from Fort Riley, always present a unique and interesting program.

CHAMPIONS—Alpha Theta Chi won the first annual Intramural volley ball championship. Pi Beta Phi placed first in the annual Aggie Pop display of home talent. Kappa Sigma walked off with the Intramural basketball championship.

MISCELLANEOUS—A view of the college from the top of the wireless aerial. The Wampus Cats ready to pep up the football game. A view of the famous Aggie college band forming the "K." The K. U.-Aggie football crowd as viewed from the top of the wireless aerial.

CLEAN-UP DAY, MAY FETE—Every student turned out last spring to assist with the campus clean-up. A great deal was accomplished although this year the day was given up in favor of an Easter vacation.

The May Fete is one of the most beautiful events of the spring semester and is looked forward to by every student each year.

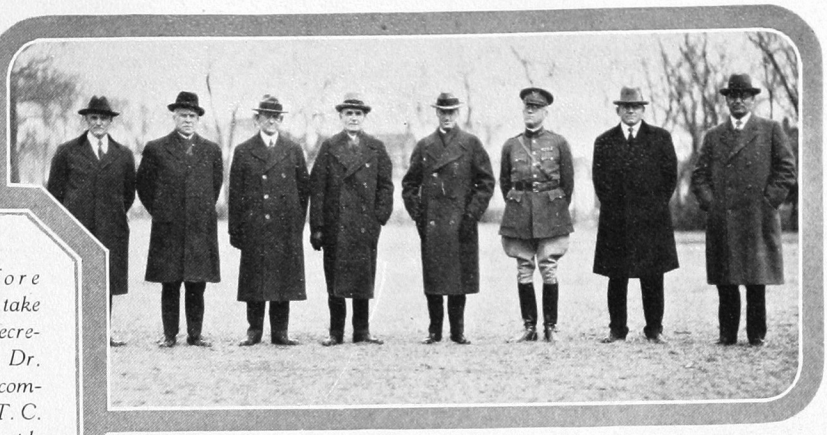

WAMPUS CATS FROLIC, ROUGHNECK DAY REMINISCENCE, FRESHMAN SURVEYORS LAB—The football games were pepped up between halves by the original stunts of the Wampus Cats. Freshmen continue to study the topography of the campus. Roughneck Day also was sacrificed for an Easter vacation this year.

PREXY LEAVES—Before going to Washington to take up his new duties as Secretary of Agriculture, Dr. Jardine reviewed the combined units of the R. O. T. C. Students and townspeople turned out to bid Prexy good-bye when he left. His famous smile was in evidence to the last.

HOMECOMING DAY—
Nearly every fraternity and sorority house took part in the contest for the best decorations. Sigma Phi Epsilon, bottom, won first place for the third consecutive year and thereby gained permanent possession of the silver loving cup offered by the pep organizations.

STATION KSAC — Sending room and equipment of the new Aggie radio station which was installed last fall. Sam Pickard, who was instrumental in getting the station for the college, is shown in the center. The wireless aerials are over 150 feet high and rise high above the entire surrounding territory.

HONORARY SOCIETIES ELECT—Four pledges of Sigma Delta Chi wearing the colors of their fraternity. Below are some scenes snapped during the Scabbard and Blade Hell-Week.

POLITICS, REGISTRATION, CROSS-COUNTRY—William J. Bryan addressed 5,000 people in the stadium last fall. He was introduced by Dr. Kammeyer.

Trying to get into the gym on registration day.

The Aggies won the Valley championship in Cross-Country. Kimport is shown placing second in the meet at Drake.

FAMOUS HIKING PLACES —What Aggie student has not enjoyed a Sunday afternoon at one of these places, the big "K," Wildcat, the Blue River near the sand dip, and Rocky Ford?

DRAMATICS, FORESTRY

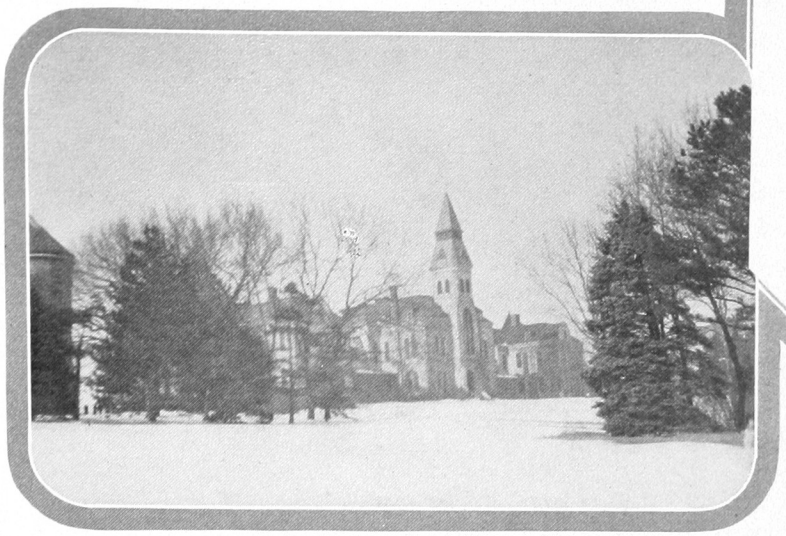

—Two scenes from "The First Year," the fall play presented by Purple Masque.

A class in forestry under Prof. Dickens examining the oldest tree in Kansas. The tree is supposed to have been self-planted about the time that Columbus discovered America.

THE CAMPUS IN WINTER—Even during the winter months K. S. A. C. presents an inviting appearance. The numerous fir trees furnish a background which would gladden the heart of any artist.

CLOTHES are important, socially and in business, for the effect they have on other people. Everybody knows this. But more important still is the effect they have on the wearer. This is a point often overlooked. Good clothes, a frequent change of clothes, are an unfailing stimulus, an unfailing source of assurance; and this is the best attitude a man can possibly have toward his friends and the public. Knowing this, it is up to us to offer you the best clothes to be had. We do; they're unquestionably Society Brand.

EVERY young man or woman of today wonders what tomorrow will mean for him or her. Whether you measure your success in dollars and cents, or in contentment and the respect of those in the community in which you live, there is just one answer—the answer is THRIFT.

Heard at the Varsity—I have nothing on my hip—not even a freckle.

They say school teachers are getting such small salaries that many are becoming chorus girls. Why should they show figures to smallboys when they can make more showing figures to big boys?

I call my girl Spearmint because she is always after meals. She is always taking a bath, for the doctor told her to take medicine four times a day in water. I took her out canoeing; she refused to kiss me—so I paddled her back.

She's a B. V. D. girl—Born Very Dumb.

I must admit, she's as useless as a glass eye at a keyhole.

THE value of a school annual printing contract lies not in its specifications. Back of this must be inclination and ability to give the best. In the Guild contest this year
Five Cups and Three Ribbons was our toll of prizes. Last year there were nine prizes won by our books. This is proof of persistent quality and service. You could ask no more.
